Dean Sees JFK After Geneva Nuclear Parley

McCloy, Rusk Join In Meeting President Anxious On Arms Cut Body

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ambassador Arthur H. Dean came back from the Geneva nuclear conference today and immediately met with President Kennedy on the atomic test crisis.

John J. McCloy, U.S. disarmament administrator, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk joined in the 25-minute conference at the White House. Dean and McCloy later continued their talks at the State Department.

One of the questions presumably up for the high-level discussion was what course McCloy should follow concerning scheduled talks with the Soviets next week. McCloy, who was in New York earlier this week, returned to his Washington office after the announcement of a resumption of Soviet atomic testing.

In an area closely related to the McCloy negotiations, Kennedy was reported more anxious than ever for congressional passage of a bill setting up a new U.S. disarmament agency.

Anti-Semitism in Campaign

Levitt Charges Bigotry, Wagner Defends His Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—Charges and denials of anti-Semitism have intensified the bitterness of the mayoral campaign.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, Democratic, organization choice for mayor and a Jew, leveled the charge Thursday against campaign strategists for Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Roman Catholic.

Wagner, running against Levitt in the Sept. 7 Democratic primary next called the charge "an outrageous thing, a mark of desperation."

"This is about as low as you can get," Wagner added. "I'll match my record in the fight for civil liberties for all the people, including the Jewish people, against anybody."

Former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, a leading supporter of Wagner for renomination and a Jew, accused Levitt today of "raising the dangerous spectre of anti-Semitism solely to serve the crass purposes of political expediency."

Lehman called Levitt's charge "the most malicious tactic of any

Nasser Is For JFK, Red Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Nasser told the opening session of the conference of nonaligned nations today that the Soviet decision to resume nuclear tests was a shock and would cause the international situation to deteriorate further.

The other two sponsors of the 24-nation conference, Presidents Tito of Yugoslavia and Sukarno of Indonesia, made no mention of the Soviet nuclear decision in their speeches at the conference's first plenary session.

Shock to World
But Nasser, leader of the United Arab Republic, expressed "deep regret" at the Soviet announcement, and said it was "a shock to me and to world public opinion."

"Whatever the reasons were for the Soviet government decision," Nasser said, "its most important and clear significance is grave deterioration in the international situation."

Nasser called Berlin and Germany the "problem of problems" and said a meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev is "imperative at the earliest."

Asks Calm Negotiations

The Arab leader said "saber rattling" must end and an "opportunity be left open for calm negotiations on the highest level."

Tito told the 23 other leaders their meeting would assert their right to participate with the big powers in solving world problems.

The Yugoslav president complained that "there still prevails, as in the past, the practice that

State Fair Opens At Syracuse, Has $151,000 Prizes

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Fat cattle, a giant midway, fancy needlework, name entertainers, juicy hams, more than $151,000 in premiums.

All were ready today to entertain, awe, thrill or tempt state fair visitors, led by a trim 17-year-old brunette reigning two red oxen pulling a covered wagon through the main gate.

The entrance of reigning and reigning Queen Margaret Bruening of Fairport set the theme—a salute to the state's transportation industry.

Expect Half Million

Officials expected a half million visitors for the nine-day state fair, but some persons said the polio outbreak in the Syracuse area may hold back the crowds attendance.

A state physician said, however, out-of-town visitors could feel

78 on TWA Plane Die; 3rd Worst

Victims Include 12 From 2 Families

CHICAGO (AP)—A Trans World Airlines tourist-class airliner with several family groups aboard crashed and burned in a muddy cornfield today, minutes after taking off for Los Angeles. All 78 persons aboard were killed.

The big four-engine Constellation exploded and caught fire as it plowed into the rain-soaked ground 10 miles west of Chicago's Midway Airport.

Most Were Holidays
In Washington, the FBI said it had started an investigation of the possibility that a bomb may have caused the crash.

Most of the 73 passengers were embarking on Labor Day holiday visits. Seven were members of one Los Angeles family.

The crash came shortly after a heavy thunderstorm had raked the area.

The plane, TWA Flight 529, left Boston at 7:45 p.m. Thursday. It was en route to Los Angeles and had made stops at New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago. It left Chicago at 2 a.m. and crashed about 10 minutes later.

Was Heading North
Jerry Broz, a farmer whose house south of Hinsdale is only 150 yards from the wreckage, said he heard the plane roar overhead, then apparently start a turn.

The plane was heading almost due north when it struck.

"I think he was trying to land," Broz said. "It might have been done successfully—with all the space here. But something was wrong."

The thunderous explosion caused residents of the area to look first southwest, toward Argonne National Laboratories, the Atomic Energy Commission installation which is five miles southwest of the crash scene.

74 Million Cars Will Use Roads Over Labor Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Millions of persons got ready today for the last long holiday weekend of the summer season.

The heaviest motor travel in the nation's history was indicated by safety experts over the three-day Labor Day holiday.

An estimated 74 million cars are ready to roll as motorists prepared to head for vacation and recreation spots, for family outings, to cities and to rural areas.

But a grim warning already has been made by the National Safety Council to the millions of motorists who will be on the road: 420 persons may be killed during the 78-hour holiday period from 6 p.m. today to midnight Monday (local time).

The council estimated that near-

Will Grill Boston Youth About Slaying in Hotel

BOSTON (AP)—David Glover, 20, of Boston, today was charged with being a fugitive from justice, waived extradition and was turned over by a Boston court to two Buffalo detectives investigating the slaying of a young Minneapolis chemist.

Felicetta said this youth told the Buffalo couple he was invited by Moran to spend the night in Moran's hotel room, became enraged by a remark Moran made, and assaulted him.

The Buffalo police quoted the couple as saying they first went to a priest who advised the youth to surrender, but that later another man advised him to leave the city. They were quoted as saying they drove the youth to Rochester, where he took a bus for Boston.

Nasser Is only the biggest, the most advanced and militarily the most powerful countries attempt to make decisions involving the fate of the world.

This meeting, Tito said, "illustrates, however, that such outdated practices must be discarded, that nonaligned countries can no longer reconcile themselves with the status of observers and voters and that in their opinion, they have the right to participate in the solving of world problems, particularly those which endanger peace."

No Reference to Test

Indonesian President Sukarno, a sponsor of the meeting along with Tito and Nasser, called for recognition of both West and East Germany and talks between the two to solve the Berlin problem, reorganization of the United Nations, peaceful coexistence between the Western and Soviet blocs and a new effort to achieve disarmament. He did not refer to the Soviet announcement of plans to resume nuclear weapons tests.

"If the Soviet Union chooses to conclude a peace treaty with East Germany, let it be so," Sukarno said.

Some officials suggested that the Moscow announcement on nuclear tests might force the conference to take sides in the cold war "against our will." There was speculation the conference would sound a new call for nuclear arms curbs, but one Western diplomat in Moscow speculated the nonaligned nations might be frightened into pleading for peace negotiations no matter what the outcome.

See 'Disastrous Echo'

The delegates generally were shocked, dismayed or angered by the Soviet announcement on the eve of the conference. Borba, the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper, said the Kremlin's decision could have a "disastrous echo."

Against the background of rising Soviet-Western tension, the delegates still hoped their collective voice might be heard. They claimed to speak for three-quarters of a billion people living in countries with about a quarter of the votes in the U.N. General Assembly.

There are bound to be fireworks. Although all profess to be nonaligned, some lean more toward the Soviets and some more toward the West.

Leaders like President Makarios of Cyprus and Premier Saeb Salam of Lebanon are expected to take much more moderate stands than Presidents Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and Osvaldo Dorticos of Cuba.

The basic requirement for admission to the conference was a national policy of nonalignment in the sense of not belonging to any major East-West alliance such as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or its Communist counterpart, the Warsaw Pact, or the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Lake Katrine Boy On Bike Hit by Car

A 14-year-old Lake Katrine boy, who state police said was injured Thursday night when struck by a car on Neighborhood Road, Lake Katrine, is reported in satisfactory condition at Kingston Hospital today.

Kingston state police said Richard Cooper Jr., suffered contusions and abrasions of the upper right leg as he crossed the highway on his bicycle and was struck by a 1953 sedan operated by Roman Wolff, 28 of Mt. Marion.

Trooper William Brennan said the car was traveling east on Neighborhood Road when the boys crossed the highway and was knocked to the pavement. The mishap occurred at 7:05 p. m.

Return of Goulart

was some speculation Goulart would travel overland.

It was assumed Goulart would go to Rio Grande do Sul, across the frontier from Uruguay, where State Gov. Leonel Brizola, Goulart's brother-in-law, and Gen. Jose Machado Lopes, commander of the 60,000-man 3rd Army, both defied Dornes and sided with the vice president.

Welcome Readied

Preparations were made to welcome Goulart at Porto Alegre. Brizola met with state officials Thursday night and reportedly discussed plans for Goulart to set up a national government at the state university in Porto Alegre. Later the governor conferred with Goulart by telephone.

Brizola in a broadcast appealed to interim President Ranieri Mazzilli in "the name of legality and the constitution" to go to Porto Alegre and hand over to Goulart the presidency from which Quadros resigned a week ago. The governor said his forces were not rebels but were committed to maintain the principles of legality.

"We will not fire the first shot," Brizola declared, "but we will fire the second and then many more."

The newspaper Folha de Sao Paulo said 3rd Army forces had occupied Paranaquay, a port and rail terminal less than 20 miles south of Sao Paulo, and were advancing north. There was no confirmation of the report.

Japs to Protest

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government said today it would protest to Moscow that Soviet resumption of nuclear testing will shower the Japanese people "with the fallout from the ashes of death."

The opposition Socialist party also addressed a protest to Premier Khrushchev through the Russian Embassy here. It warned him that the Soviet Union will lose its "glorious prestige" if he goes through with the tests.

Dean Sees JFK

was to see the President and while the White House did not list a discussion topic, it was assumed the Berlin and nuclear tests questions would be prominent.

Kennedy also awaited a report from Arthur H. Dean, returning from Geneva where he headed U.S. negotiators at nuclear weapons test ban talks with the Soviet Union and Britain. Kennedy recalled Dean when the Soviets announced plans to test again.

The Democratic leader who reported Kennedy's views also said the Soviet announcement dimmed prospects for disarmament legislation in the waning congressional session.

Some committee members are said to believe approval of the proposed agency, which would coordinate U.S. disarmament policy, would be interpreted as a sign of weakness in the face of the new Soviet threat.

Demanding Tests

A demand for resumption of U.S. testing is on the rise in Congress. A resolution to this effect has been signed by 13 senators and referred to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

There, Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said action would be delayed until next week, when the administration's views will be sought.

In a White House statement Thursday nothing was said about any plans the United States may have to resume testing. Kennedy accused the Kremlin of "atomic blackmail." He also said the United States has a supply of nuclear weapons sufficient for its own and its Allies' defense.

The government, meanwhile, is going ahead with talks with Moscow aimed at setting up a multilateral disarmament conference.

A State Department spokesman said John J. McCloy, Kennedy's disarmament adviser, would meet in New York next Wednesday with Valerian Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister.

The spokesman said he knew of no change in the purpose of the talks. Similar sessions between McCloy and Zorin were held this summer both in Washington and Moscow.

State Fair Opens

"perfectly safe" about coming here.

Among the scheduled opening-day events were a high-school band competition and an international horse show.

In all, there was "more to do, more to see," the publicity men said.

1,500 Cattle Shown

Of the more than $151,000 in premiums, $138,000 will go to the exhibitors of livestock and farm produce. More than 1,500 head of beef and dairy cattle were on hand.

The fair offered youngsters $25,000 in premiums in more than 500 classes of competition.

The England exhibit of previous years has been enlarged into a poultry foods festival, featuring new processes of preparing chicken, turkey and duck dishes.

Other Features

Other features include a $2-million railroad exhibit, a furnished model home, a science fair and a High School Bowl patterned after the "college bowl" debate on television.

Wednesday is Governor's Day. Gov. Rockefeller will tour the grounds.

The governor's wife will hand out prizes Tuesday, Women's Day. A $200,000 dining room seating 500 has been added to the Harriet May Mills Building.

At the grandstand, Allen Case of "the Deputy" television show entertains today through Monday. Tennessee Ernie Ford and singer Anita Bryant take over Tuesday and Wednesday. Red Foley and his "Grand Ole Opry" close out the free reviews Thursday and next Friday.

Xavier Cugat and Abbe Lane are scheduled in the Empire Court from Sunday through Friday.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the Air Force Thunderbirds, a jet acrobatic team, will zoom overhead.

A 100-mile big-car race is the headline event scheduled for the final day, Sept. 9.

Fined $75 by Ewig

William J. McDermott, 19, of Colonial Gardens, who was charged with speeding and five stop-sign violations last June, was found guilty after trial Thursday before Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig, and was fined $75. He paid $50 on the speeding charge and $5 on each of the others. Police said McDermott rode a motorcycle at the time of the violations. Attorney Louis A. DiDonna appeared for him at the trial and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Neutrals Knew Soviets Cheated on Atom Tests

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—(NEA)—The Soviet announcement of the resumption of nuclear testing wasn't a complete surprise to all the uncommitted nations meeting in Belgrade.

Some, like India's Nehru, have long been aware that Russia was testing atomic weapons secretly, I am reliably informed.

In fact, some of the uncom-

Says Federal Law Needed to Stop Bookmaker Wires

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan has recessed Senate racketeering hearings with this observation: "Race information wire services, operated for the benefit of bookmakers, must be put out of business by federal law."

And, the Arkansas Democrat added Thursday, his Senate investigations subcommittee "will recommend a law to bring this about soon."

McClellan ran into persistent pleading of the Fifth Amendment's protection as he sought to quiz race wire operators about their business. He said race wires are "the very life blood" of bookmaking, and that hoodlums who run such enterprises cheat the government out of billions of dollars a year in income and waging taxes.

McClellan recessed the hearings until Sept. 7, when the investigation will focus on the business of setting betting odds in horse racing, basketball, football, baseball and other sports. The subcommittee already has heard odds can be rigged—and often are—in favor of bookmakers.

Owen (Owney) Madden, the old New York mobster, invoked the Fifth Amendment Thursday when the subcommittee sought to learn if he now operates a race wire service in Hot Springs, Ark.

Now 68, Madden said he had given up "criminal activities" and retired, but he refused to tell from what he retired. He said that might incriminate him in some way.

mitted representatives here are convinced Chairman Khrushchev was forced to jump the gun, because of his conviction that President Kennedy was about to denounce Russia's violation of the test ban agreement.

Khrushchev's statement considerably alters the position of the unaligned nations. They had labored under the delusion that they could steer a middle course between East and West by indulging in pious generalities. Now they are forced to condemn Russia's action forcefully or cast serious doubt upon their neutrality.

Twice in two days, Khrushchev displayed contempt for the neutrals. On Aug. 29, Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Gromyko sent a message to the United Nations demanding a deadline for the abolition of "colonialism." This obviously was designed to steal the play away from the Belgrade congress, which claims to speak in behalf of the colonial and undeveloped nations.

The announcement on resumption of nuclear testing emphasizes the helplessness of the uncommitted countries. Since Khrushchev was about to be exposed as the violator of another international agreement, he had more to gain than to lose by his announcement.

He appeased Red China, which always has opposed his peaceful coexistence policy. And he sowed confusion among the uncommitted nations.

There is little doubt that some of the countries represented here, like Cuba, Ghana, and Guinea, had hoped to turn the meeting against the West, especially the United States. However, the fact that President Kennedy welcomed the meeting, while Khrushchev sought to torpedo it, has strengthened the hand of men like Nehru, who are trying hard to keep the neutrals neutral.

Khrushchev obviously cannot forgive the unaligned nations for holding a meeting six weeks before the congress of the Russian Communist party. This exposed the fraud of Russia's pose of speaking for the colonial and undeveloped countries.

The ultimate result blew Russia's claim of wanting peaceful coexistence farther than atomic fallout.

Gets Bomb Threat Over Debt Owed By Dead Friend

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Louise Willis was advised by a male voice on the telephone Thursday that a bomb was on her back porch. She found a six-inch piece of pipe there wrapped in aluminum foil. Inside was a note, demanding that she pay a bad debt incurred by a deceased friend.

Mrs. Willis, 42, put the device in a brown paper bag and had a friend drive her to Jamaica, Queens, police headquarters. Bomb squad detective Gerard Sommerville arrived, took the home-made device to the basement and defused it.

Security Is Relaxed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A slight relaxation of security measures was planned today on the third day of desegregation at four closely guarded Atlanta public high schools.

School Supt. John Letson said Negro pupils would arrive at the same time as the white children

Order Is Issued Against Watering Of Smoked Hams

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a bow to the consumer, the government today squeezed the water out of smoked hams.

An order by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman applies to smoked pork products that are marketed under federal inspection. The ruling reverses one by Freeman's predecessor, Ezra Taft Benson.

Last December, Benson, secretary of agriculture in the Eisenhower administration, permitted the addition of moisture of up to 10 per cent in these pork products.

Processors who are not under federal inspection already had made the moisture addition under their curing process. Benson said his ruling was designed to put federally inspected processors on a par with the others.

Consumer groups protested and Freeman ordered a series of public hearings throughout the country to measure consumer reaction.

These hearings, Freeman said in today's statement, showed preponderant consumer opposition to the Benson regulation.

The processors who come under federal meat inspection are those who ship from one state to another. Those processors who do business wholly within a state do not come under federal regulation.

Freeman's ruling goes into effect 30 days after publication in the Federal Register, the government's official publication.

Accused Hijacker Of Jetliner Will Get Mental Test

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Leon Bearden, 38, accused jetliner hijacker, will be confined to William Beaumont General Hospital here next week for a psychiatric examination requiring from 20 to 30 days.

U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomas on Thursday signed commitment papers for the examination. Bearden will be examined by government doctors at William Beaumont. After examination and observation there, he will undergo examination by civilian specialists for defense attorneys.

Bearden and his son, Cody, 16, are being held under $100,000 bond each on charges after they unsuccessfully attempted to hijack a Continental Airlines 707 jet on Aug. 3.

Senators Favor Sending Military Cargo by Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—Greater use of the St. Lawrence Seaway in shipping military cargo overseas could save the government millions of dollars, senators from five Great Lakes states contended.

Of the 12 million tons of military cargo shipped overseas last year, only 70,000 tons went via the seaway, the senators told Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara in a letter Thursday.

They said an estimated $1 to $3 per ton "could be saved by utilizing this less expensive route."

The senators—from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Ohio—urged the Defense Department to establish a Great Lakes transportation command and that it begin test shipments to determine actual savings.

The senators said 40 per cent of the goods produced in the United States came from areas near the Great Lakes. They said the production included substantial military goods.

at three of the schools. At the fourth they would continue to enter a few minutes late and leave a bit early.

"We are moving as rapidly as possible to see that these pupils are treated the same as anyone else," he said.

Gets Appointment

CLIFFORD P. SCHWARK

The appointment of Clifford P. Schwark, of Bearsville as an associate industrial engineer in plant layout has been announced by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the IBM Federal Systems Divisions Command Control Center here.

A graduate of Kingston High School, Schwark is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwark of Salem Street, Port Jervis.

Schwark joined IBM in May, 1955 as a draftsman in product engineering at the Command Control Center. In the fall of 1956 he took an educational leave of absence and entered St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y. During summer vacations, he was employed as a draftsman in material handling and plant layout at the Command Control Center. He rejoined the Kingston organization in June of this year as an industrial engineer in plant layout, a post he has held until his present appointment.

Schwark is active in Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. He received a degree in business administration from St. Lawrence University. He and his wife Nancy reside on Wittenberg Road, Bearsville.

Three Woodstock Youths Are Held For Auto Theft

Three Woodstock youths, accused of stealing the car of a Brooklyn resident Thursday were committed to Ulster County Jail by Woodstock Justice of the Peace Rudolf C. Baumgarten pending examination Wednesday, Sept. 6, Kingston state police reported.

Arrested by troopers were John Anthony Fisher, 18; Barry Francis Walsh, 19, and Bruce Dickens Gomm, alias Bruce Gordon, 18. All were charged with first degree grand larceny in connection with the theft of a 1961 sedan owned by Miss Carole Renee Baum of Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn.

Miss Baum, who was staying with a friend, Barbara Elsenson at the Fisher residence told troopers she didn't know the car was missing until she saw Fisher returning the vehicle at 8:30 p. m. and he told her he was in an accident. She told BCI Investigator Roger Gardner that she did not give Fisher permission to use her car.

Test Is Successful

White Sands Missile Range, N.M. (AP)—The Army has successfully fired a Nike Zeus anti-missile missile in a test of a new main stage motor using a higher performance solid propellant.

The firing also was for the purpose of studying missile structure and ground electronic equipment making up the weapon's command guidance system. The rocket was fired Thursday from ground level.

AP Is Planning Stock Tabulations By Fast Computer

NEW YORK (AP)—Complete automation of stock market tabulation to permit greater speed, accuracy and efficiency is planned by The Associated Press.

In place of the present manual operations, the job of collecting and updating quotations from the nation's major financial centers will be done by an electronic computer, tentatively scheduled for installation by December, 1962.

The computer will operate with more versatility and accuracy than is possible under even the highest standards of present manual operations," said Frank J. Stanzel, AP general manager. "Tabulations of stock changes will be performed as required in microseconds, almost simultaneously" with punching tape for transmission. Trading volume many times greater than that of the heaviest days yet experienced can be handled with ease."

The computer was jointly developed by The Associated Press and International Business Machines Corporation.

The computer is the latest step by The Associated Press to apply the newest technological developments to the compilation and transmission of stock tables in a time of expanded newspaper coverage and rising reader interest.

It will be able to "read" information on trading activity in the various exchanges at a 10,000 word a minute pace and permit delivery of end-of-day tables to newspapers almost simultaneously with the close of the ticker.

The Associated Press now serves 97 per cent of the daily newspapers, which, according to New York Stock Exchange surveys, publish complete "big board" tables.

To Cremate Body Of Actor Coburn

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor Charles Coburn's body will be cremated here in a private ceremony, according to his wishes.

A lawyer for the late actor also disclosed Thursday that Coburn specified in his will he did not want his body to repose in a public room nor did he want any funeral services.

Coburn died of heart failure at the age of 84 on Wednesday in Lenox Hill Hospital after undergoing throat surgery.

Four-Hour Bulldozer Debate Ends in Court

A four-hour debate on the merits of bulldozer operations, infrequently interrupted to quench parched throats, at The Barn Thursday afternoon ended in the chambers of Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert E. Stedje where the two participants were fined $10 each for disorderly conduct.

Roy Silver, 39 of RD 2, Newburgh and Clinton Gilbert Call, 38 of Bayside, L. I., pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and paid the fines.

Kingston State Trooper John Salter, who with Thomas J. Morrissey, investigated said an argument as to which of the two defendants was the better bulldozer operator continued from 5 to 9 p. m. and developed into an altercation before troopers arrived.

Both men reportedly are employed by the John Arboire Inc., construction firm.

Building Survey In Fallout Plan To Start in Oct.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A survey of major buildings in all 50 states—the first step in a government program designed to provide fallout protection for 50 million persons—will get under way next month, officials announced Thursday.

Completion of the survey, for which $93 million has been appropriated, is expected by Dec. 31, 1962.

Representatives of the Defense Department outlined the vast program during a joint meeting here of Army Engineers from the Baltimore area and Civil Defense officials from seven states.

The survey of buildings will be limited to those structures capable of accommodating more than 50 persons. Some of them probably won't need modifications and will be marked with signs visible to the public.

ATTACK ON GAMBLING

Barnum probably was conservative when he said a sucker was born every minute. Professional gamblers have always done a lush business bilking the gullible. Dramatic evidence of the fact that the plucking remains good has been contained in testimony before Chairman McClellan's Senate investigating committee. The committee has been looking into how the smart boys operate.

The professionals remove the element of chance from gambling insofar as is possible. And they go far. They employ rose-colored contact lenses, the better to see the hands of their opponents, and two-way radios by which they trade information secretly. "Educated" dice are an integral part of their kit, of course, and so are magnet-worm belts, which advance the dice's education.

It might be argued that anyone naive enough to assume that he will receive an honest deal or stupid enough to expect anything but financial disaster when bucking such odds deserves what he gets. This is the premise of the gambling fraternity, at least. However, the cold-blooded avarice of these crooks causes inestimable family hardship. Their reluctance to pay taxes is said to cost the government about five billion dollars annually.

Crooked gamblers would be stopped cold if they had no victims, but it is too much to expect the suckers to resist the lure of quick money. Manufacturers of crooked gambling devices could be curbed by law, however, and the Internal Revenue Service could press more vigorously to make the gamblers pay their taxes. That would not solve the problem, but it would help.

SLEEPING ON AIR

Time was when sleeping on a lumpy, hard bed was accepted by most campers as one of camping's inevitable discomforts. Then along came the air mattress. Along came air pumps to minimize the inconvenience of blowing up the mattress. Now there are even mattresses with built-in foot pumps that can be operated while one stares dreamily off into the middle distance.

It was a discovery, therefore, to find in the Midland Cooperator a piece by Rocky Teller about how to make a natural bed. First a frame of popple or birch logs; then the lopped-off branches of four balsam trees, judiciously laid across the frame to make a springy mattress. A soft bed, that, and fragrant. But we had a thought. With the number of people camping today, if everyone whacked down four balsam trees for his bed there'd soon be no more woods to camp in. So it's just as well there are air mattresses.

The East German government, having slammed the Brandenburg Gate, may ponder the ancient saying: Man who slams door may get finger pinched.

THE HARD CORE

Who are the unemployed? According to the Department of Labor, as of mid-June, the composite jobless worker was between 25 and 55, and an unskilled or semiskilled worker in durable goods industries.

He was a resident of one of six large industrial states — New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois — and was receiving about $32 a week in unemployment benefits.

At the time of the study, 700,000 unemployed were receiving temporary extended unemployment benefits. They represented a third of the two million workers who had used up their state unemployment benefit rights since mid-1960.

The average worker had received about 22 weeks of benefits and had about 10 more weeks left.

This general picture has not changed significantly since June. While individual workers have joined or left the group, this large army of unemployed remains, seemingly unabsorbable in an otherwise prosperous economy.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CONSERVATIVE REVOLT

The year 1961 will go down in American campus history as the conservative revolt. During the 1930's the Communists captured various students' organizations over which they held pretty tight control until 1939 when the Hitler-Stalin Alliance shamed many who had joined Communist front groups not because they accepted Marxist doctrine but because they hated Hitler and the Nazi.

The war came and college organizations were captured by so-called Liberals, that is by those who could see both sides of a question and favored one side mildly but not obstinately. The Liberals have been, by the very nature of their ideas, opportunistic, reaching conclusions without regard to basic philosophy.

The 1961 United States National Students Convention, meeting at Madison, Wisconsin, found itself confronted by a Committee for a Responsible National Student Organization, a conservative group, closely affiliated with the Young Americans for Freedom. Led by Howard Phillips, recently president of the Harvard Student Council, Leftists and Liberals have encountered capable organization and articulate conservative thought. The National Student Association claims to represent 1,300,000 American students. The reason for attempting to gain control of the National Student Association is explained as follows:

"We are attempting to rehabilitate the present structure of N.S.A., rather than at first make a fresh start, because N.S.A. exists as the semi-official, self-avowed, and unchallenged national union of students for the United States of America. It claims to speak for the American student at important international student meetings; it receives the informal cooperation of the United States government; it has considerable strength and widespread campus contacts. In terms of influence it is one of the most significant, yet little known organizations in this country."

The challenging question is whether these students are really represented by their organization or has it come under the control of Leftists who speak in their name. Testifying before a congressional committee, Howard Phillips, speaking for the Young Americans for Freedom, said:

"It is our conviction that the U. S. in the 1960's is at a crossroads between freedom and federal domination. On the one hand, a commitment to individual responsibility, a belief in certain absolute moral principles and the relatively free choice of one's own destiny. On the other hand, federal dominance, characterized by weakness, apathy, false security, excessive dependence and little respect for the individuality of every citizen."

These young people want the advantages of American life, the intellectual and spiritual heritage that has come down through the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. They decline to believe that Marxism can drive us into another way of life. While they are realistic in their appraisal of current forces, they are unlike the conservative businessmen who are throwing up the sponge because he is scared by the successes of Soviet Russia. These young people say:

"In fact, we believe that free enterprise is the best way to get most things done. It is what has made this country great, and it is what has given us the best system of health care this nation or any other nation has ever known."

It is these young people who must fight this war in which we are now engaged. Their lives are already being disordered by the anticipations of war. Young men and young women talk to each other on the telephone by the hour about whether he should enlist or take his chances on being drafted. Their parents say that the war will never come, that no one would be so stupid as to hurl a hydrogen bomb or to shoot a missile. The retaliation would be too awful.

The young people say that this kind of talk is meaningless because one way or another, their lives will be involved in war. When they think of marriage, they wonder whether there will be a honeymoon or will he be called to some service. The young are not fooled by the situation or by the happy talk of the oldsters. And not being fooled, their minds turn to the preservation of the kind of America they know and love. Willing to fight even to sacrifice their lives, they are unwilling to accept Marxism-Leninism as a compromise with fate.

Among the C.R.N.S.O. there are none who believe "Better Red than Dead." And they are willing to use all they have, their intellects and fists, to prove that the new Communist slogan is fraudulent.

Hay Fever Sufferers Beware of One-Shot Injections

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—How good is the one-shot injection for the relief of hay fever?

A—The effectiveness of what's called "repository therapy for pollenosis" (hay fever) has not been established.

What's even more important, there have been many curious reactions to injection of the water-in-oil emulsion that's used to deliver the pollen extract. On this account, many authorities warn against "compliance regarding the safety of repository injections."

While it's true that a single injection has obvious attraction for those who have had to have multiple injections on previous occasions, it is my opinion that the safety factor should be rated higher than that of convenience.

Q—My wife has just returned from a TB sanitarium where she's been for over a year. She still hasn't negative sputum although she has been given streptomycin, seromycin, INH, viomycin, PAS and other drugs. My doctor knows I am writing you to see if you have any other suggestions.

A—Slight unseen, I should be inclined to suspect that your wife has a tubercular cavity that may be accessible to surgery. If she is well enough to come home, and still has positive sputum after such impressive treatment, it's quite likely that she has a small, thickly-walled cavity in which the bacilli are nesting.

Q—While carrying our four-year-old son, I had more pep and energy than I ever had before or since. After his birth, I again became tired and easily fatigued. My complexion is poor. I've taken all kinds of tonics as well as vitamin shots but I haven't been able to duplicate the health I enjoyed during pregnancy. Can you explain this?

A—I won't promise to supply the answer. But I do have a suggestion that's worth a try, particularly if you are lean.

It's not uncommon for women of the greyhound type of build to report unusual well-being throughout the carrying period. In such instances the growing womb and its passenger act as a sort of built-in belly-binder. The sagging stomach and intestines are held up. There is a lesser tendency of blood pressure to fall when the woman stands on her feet for any considerable time (orthostatic hypotension).

As a result, "all's well with the world" until the baby is born. And then all the old complaints return with a vengeance.

The thing to do, of course, is to get a good firm corset, one of the old-fashioned kind with lacing. Put it on while you're lying flat, with your hips a bit elevated. Tuck a small pad down where it will do the most good.

Or better still, how about another pregnancy?

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Naval Reserve brass in the Pentagon have come up with this novel idea:

"While we're calling up reserves we shouldn't neglect to call up Reserve Naval Cmdr. Richard M. Nixon. He could be made naval aide to the President, because he's familiar with the White House and could then relieve the present naval aide to the President for sea duty."

If anything like this should happen, Nixon would, of course, be serving with two other ex-naval officers, Commanders Lyndon B. Johnson and Lt. John F. Kennedy.

Note: Nixon almost lost his reserve commission while he was vice president. The Navy Bureau of Personnel fumed that he wasn't keeping up with his correspondence courses.

REP. OTTO PASSMAN, D-La., as chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee in charge of State Department money has built a reputation as the No. 1 opponent of foreign aid.

In this year's questioning of Asst. Secretary of State for African Affairs G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, Passman asked the innocent question:

"Mr. Secretary, would you say that cannibalism had declined in Africa?"

Williams voiced the opinion that it had most certainly declined a great deal.

"Thank you very much," replied Passman to close the Secretary's testimony. "I merely wanted your confirmation that cannibalism in Africa still exists."

SPECIAL AMBASSADOR John J. McCloy says he got tricked into taking the hopeless job of trying to reach an agreement with the Russians on disarmament. President Kennedy first approached him on making a special balance-of-payments study in Germany, Mrs. McCloy's native land and a country for which McCloy has a special liking since he served there as high commissioner.

Later the President phoned McCloy and reminded him that he had promised to perform a special mission. "Yes, Mr. President," said McCloy eagerly.

Whereupon the President handed him the disarmament assignment. ON HIS WAY to a reception in the Old Supreme Court Chamber in the Capitol, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., was describing the room to friends. He told of the high, vaulted ceiling, the marble columns, the miniature gold eagle, and the dignified mahogany bench of the justices.

Someone asked him about the carpet in the room. Cracked Scott: "It's a deep, dark red—undoubtedly from the taxpayers' blood."

SECRETARY OF THE Army Elvis Stahr Jr. and Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert, watching a joint Army-Air Force parachute drop of troops and

There was stunned silence for a few seconds. Then Stahr roared: "Now who's going to have to pay for this—me or Zuckert?"

Ban on Tests Did Not Halt Designing of A-Weapons

By DAVID LAWRENCE

In appraising the significance of the decision of the Soviets to resume nuclear testing, it is important to bear in mind that the ban on tests in the last three years has not meant any ban on the designing and development of new weapons on the drawing boards and in the laboratories. Inventors, engineers and scientists have had no ban placed on their mental operations or research activities.

The Soviets undoubtedly have reached the point where, in order to develop or perfect their designs, they now need to make full-scale tests of some of their devices—tests that cannot be conducted underground and remain undetected. So they cover up this phase with a lot of hokey charging the Western allies with a planned aggression, the occasion is used to try to scare the West into a surrender on the Berlin issue.

It has long been suspected that the whole controversy over the nuclear-test ban was started by the Soviets for selfish reasons. A world wide propaganda was initiated by the Communists which was aided and abetted by sincere and well-meaning scientists, politicians and ordinary citizens in the West who were naively inclined to believe that Moscow really wanted to avert nuclear warfare and that the test ban was the first step toward disarmament.

Actually, it begins to appear now that the Soviets knew in 1958 that the United States was two to three years ahead in the technology of nuclear weapons. Moscow wanted time to catch up—to digest their own information and develop devices to the testing point while making sure that the West would be suspending its tests. The United States government, being responsive to the public opinion that had been created, went along on the voluntary ban on testing. The impression that had been given to peoples everywhere was that a suspension of testing was somehow related to an early abolition of the use of nuclear weapons themselves.

Some in U. S. Relieved

But now the simple fact stares everybody in the face—the Soviets not only are openly resuming tests but they talk of new and more terrible weapons than have ever before been conceived. How can they know this except by having carried on tests? Have their designs had the benefit of secret tests heretofore and given them some ideas which were converted into threats in the latest Soviet pronouncement? Moscow took advantage of the opportunity also to apply pressure on the political front, and thought all this was worth the risk of alienating world opinion.

Incidentally, Representative Chet Holifield of California, chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, makes a good point in his latest statement, which says:

"The announcement that the Soviet Union will resume atmospheric testing makes a mockery out of their former position of opposing atmospheric tests on the grounds that it would contaminate the globe with radioactive contamination."

Dr. Edward Teller, the noted physicist who is often referred to as the "father of the H-bomb," has just repeated his belief that fallout from nuclear tests is not necessarily dangerous. He says: "Fallout is a red herring... we should not be frightened of the big bang—but rather of the knowledge the Russians have gained through testing before they started this rocket rattling. If Khrushchev says he can make a 100-megaton bomb, he has good evidence he can do it. The best evidence he can have is from smaller tests which could have been carried out without the slightest difficulty, and with no chance whatever that we could detect it."

At the Pentagon and at the Atomic Energy Commission here, there was sighs of relief when the news came that Russia was openly resuming tests, thus ending the self-imposed test ban for the United States. For it gives America a chance to forge ahead with its own nuclear tests. But, our drawing boards, too, have been accumulating new designs that need to be tried out in actual tests.

There are, to be sure, enough nuclear weapons available today for each side to destroy the other. But the big thing now is to prevent the other fellow from retaliating. The Soviets, it is reported, will test a whole range of new weapons which are intended to destroy 95 per cent on an enemy's retaliatory power by striking the "first blow." Up to now, the threat of "massive retaliation" has been a deterrent to such an attack by the Soviets. But if a weapon is developed that can destroy instantly all our bases from which missiles can be fired and at the same time interferes for at least nine hours with the operation of radio, which is vital to the flight of manned bombers, then a truly dangerous situation presents itself.

What can the free world do about it? It can, of course give its own scientists the green light for experimentation and tests. But it can also concentrate on how to reach the people behind the Iron Curtain with the truth about the distorted statements made by the Soviet leaders concerning the alleged intentions of the West to go to war.

Peoples alone can put a restraining hand on reckless rulers. The invention of a more effective way to reach the people of the Soviet Union is long overdue. Scientists and inventors could well work long hours every day to perfect new systems of communication while American policy makers concurrently would do well to develop policies that will unite the free world and alert people everywhere to the dangers of Communist subversion and deception.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

ST. LOUIS, AUG. 31 — The Teamsters Union, with almost 1,700,000 members and subjects, is now the most powerful political body in the country. It is a unified power with uncalculated millions for political action notwithstanding Congressional efforts at forbiddance. It has no state or national committees. It is nimble, impudent and cunning and beholden to nobody. And it has built up its own Department of Justice to poke holes in laws which Congress enacts and to make monkeys of the lawyers, mostly cubs or confirmed second-raters from the political clubs, who are employed by the government's Department.

The Union knows Bobby Kennedy well from experience in the hearings of the Senate Committee which he and his brother, Jack, took over from Senator John McClellan, of Arkansas, the chairman, in a coup which landed the Democratic nomination and, after that, the Presidency for Jack and the Department of Justice for Bobby. Ed Bennett Williams, chief counsel of the Teamsters, has licked the Department so often that Jimmy Hoffa, the president, can laugh at both the Kennedys in their efforts to put him in his place. His place might be a command higher and mightier than the beetling dictatorship with which John L. Lewis threatened Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1940 when Lewis plumped for Wendell Willkie but lost on the war issue. Lewis almost didn't want war, but he couldn't say so and thus ally himself with Charles A. Lindbergh and other heretics who openly put America First. He doubtless suspected, as the country was to learn soon after election, that his nominee secretly favored war all along.

Hoffa enjoys the queer advantage of the open hostility of a president and an attorney general who so far haven't licked him. He enjoys a brass opportunity operated by astonishingly agile brains. These include the brains of Harold Gibbons, a spin-off, so to speak, of the Walter Reuther school of manipulation of the masses by means of laws enacted by Congress at the behest of political adventurers, starting with Roosevelt, in the mid-thirties. Gibbons, long hidden in distant shadows in St. Louis, is now moving to Washington to sit at the Right Hand of Jimmy. It is portentous, this. For all the prattle about "democracy" the Teamsters and the AFL-CIO are still dictatorships over the Faceless Man in his dozing, dull-eyed millions. But Hoffa is constantly reminded, and he seems to mind the reminders, that it is better to yield to the Common Man on little issues that anger him.

Hoffa is described as "tough," but particulars are scant concerning any such brawls as the late Harry Lundeborg, of the Pacific sailors' union—Popeye the Sailor to his friends—lovingly spoke of as beeps. To be sure, Hoffa and his friend, the late Bert Brennan, ran rackets for private profit as proteges or licensees of this and other unions in their younging days in Detroit and Ohio. But if Jimmy ever went to a picket line in the wild way that the Communists and the Reuther did in the bloody insurrections in Flint and Detroit, those episodes are bashfully confidential. "Tough" he is in a rubbery meaning; unscrupulous and seized of a madman's power. But it is not known that he ever got blood on his gums.

It seems only yesterday that I sat in the big room in the Senate Office Building and heard the beginning of the end of the ugly success story of Dave Beck. The Kennedy boys were brash. Professional investigators brought them confirmed dirt about Beck and others and they took the role of great crusaders like Walsh, Wheeler and Borah of old. The journalists were suddenly emboldened after years of timid lethargy to daring denunciations of poor old stupid Beck now that he was gored and slashed from all sides. He may yet go to prison but with a million dollars for solace when he comes out. But when the Kennedys, grown overconfident, went for Hoffa, with practically all the cartoonists and a vast mass of editorial "policy" on their side, they caught a badger who rolled on his back and slashed their stripes out with claws like blades.

Hoffa has been indicted and hounded but never convicted. And one Federal judge deputed his duty to a ridiculous device, a committee of "monitors." Jimmy licked the monitors and his worst challenges today come from within his own union. His trouble there is some petulance of scattered batches of low-scale rank and file such as California crop canner workers and warehouse hands who add up to masses and had better be soothed lest they run wild in all directions. He can quiet them down at will just by a noble renunciation of a raise of $25,000 which he put through his last convention, from $50,000 to $75,000.

In God's name why did so smart a man grab such an illusory raise, taxable almost entirely away at best? Why? Because he is, at heart, still just a peasant of the pavements. He compared himself to the Kennedys and asked himself "why not?" But hundreds of thousands of his subjects snarl at their dues of $6 a month from the low wages the Hoffa gets them and they are the element of risk who must be kissed or kicked into submission.

He can do it either way. But the brutal way is stupid when he could cut their dues in half and kick back his raise for a triumphant coup.

In the elementary grades 22 new teachers have been employed, one has been reassigned to the elementary division from the junior high, and three are returning to the system after an absence for maternity reasons. In the special areas, there will be six new art teachers, one guidance counselor for the junior high, one dental hygienist, one elementary librarian and four music teachers. Of the positions mentioned above, those newly created for 1961-62 are: one art, one guidance counselor for junior high, one elementary librarian and one junior high English position.

On the junior high school level, those who will be new to the Kingston system are: four teachers of English, the fifth has been reassigned from junior high social studies to English, besides —one teacher of science, one home economics teacher, one teacher of special class and another special class is yet to be filled to replace Mrs. Dorothy Buehring who resigned to accept a supervisor's position with the State Education Department.

Besides special teachers for the high school, one machine shop and one auto mechanic, Hazard said, four English, one French, one Dramatics and one Mathematics teacher will be new this year. M. Clifford Miller, principal of Kingston High School must hire a mathematics teacher, but expects to make his recommendation to Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent, in the next day or so.

Some 52 teachers will be new to the Kingston system this September and 22 will be teaching in a new assignment on opening day.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Radio-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the episodes of "The New Breed," a new AEC action series, will involve a sneak thief who steals a woman's purse at an amusement park.

A gimmick of the show is using Los Angeles area backgrounds for stories about the work of a special police detail. So the producer, Quinn Martin, asked permission to use a seaside amusement park for location shooting.

The park management was overjoyed—until it heard the sneak thief plot. Then the answer was a firm "no."

"We've spent a million dollars publicizing this place," Martin was told, "and we certainly don't want to leave the impression that there are sneak thieves operating here."

The scenes were made in another amusement park, well outside the Los Angeles area.

That represents but one of the problems of making a television program with identifiable backgrounds and the flavor of a recognizable city.

Another is the danger of law suits. If, for instance, a program located a fictitious drug store illegally dispensing narcotics at a point where a real drug store operated legitimately, the real-life store owner would run, not walk, to his lawyer's office.

Many of the semi-documentary shows use the names of real streets, and give addresses that are really vacant lots. The old "Dragnet" series, which also used Los Angeles for background, had a neat trick of switching streets around: main east and west boulevards, like Sunset, Wilshire and Santa Monica carried north and south addresses. When it was necessary to name an intersection, two real place names were used, but always of streets that never met except in infinity, like "the corner of Sunset and Santa Monica."

Another new series, NBC's "87th Precinct," is deliberately given the flavor of New York City, but the city is never identified and all the streets are fictitious. The precinct itself is a composite; a little of the Bronx, a little of Central Park, a little of Fifth Avenue and a bit of Broadway—a handy device which will help give flexibility and variety to the plots. Of course, there really is an 87th Precinct in New York—but it is in Brooklyn.

U.N. Severs All Katanga Relations

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations announced today it is breaking all relations with the Katanga government.

The U.N. representative, Conon Cruise O'Brien, said in a letter to President Moise Tshombe "the United Nations cannot maintain relations with a government which included a minister against whom the most serious charges are pending."

O'Brien referred to latest developments in Katanga as "flagrant breaches of the charter and declaration of human rights."

The United Nations Thursday asked Tshombe to fire Godefroid Munongo, minister of the interior, on the grounds he was under "grave suspicion" of plotting the murder of U.N. personnel and atrocities against Baluba tribesmen. Munongo denied the charges and won the president's support.

The charges came from Andre Cremer, a Belgian, who said he had served in Katanga's gendarmerie and had been given a special mission to kill Michel Tombelaine, the deputy U.N. chief here. Munongo countered that Cremer was a known criminal wanted on theft and forgery charges.

Resistance to U.N. operations has stiffened here in recent days as it became more and more apparent the world body was striving to bring this secessionist province back under the wing of the central government in Leopoldville.

74 Million Cars

By 8 billion miles of highway travel will be logged—averaging more than 105 million miles an hour during the holiday period.

The council also estimated that traffic accidents may injure some 17,000 persons.

Trains, planes and busses will add to the huge traveling load. Resorts across the country were reported ready for their biggest weekend of the summer.

Law enforcement officials arranged special details to handle traffic and hold the number of highway fatalities to a minimum. In Illinois, Gov. Otto Kerner has urged all motorists to keep headlights burning at all times and to hold speeds to at least five miles below posted limits.

The council's estimate of 420 traffic deaths is higher than the traffic toll counted by The Associated Press in a 78-hour non-holiday weekend survey made between 6 p.m. Friday Aug. 18 and midnight Monday, Aug. 21.

During the four-day Independence Day holiday weekend this summer, 593 persons were killed in traffic accidents, 50 above the council's pre-holiday estimate.

In last year's three-day Labor Day holiday, 415 persons were killed in traffic accidents. Other violent deaths included 83 drownings, 28 in boating accidents and 90 in miscellaneous type mishaps for a total of 616.

The aftermath included work for representatives of the Post Office Department — the plane carried mail which was scorched or scattered in the mud.

The dead included Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Maloney and their five children of Covina Park, a Los Angeles suburb. The family was returning home after visiting in New York.

There were five members of the E. Chamberlain family from Palo Alto, Calif. — mother, father and three children.

Another family group of five was Mrs. L. Neil Gillian of Eureka, Calif., and her four youngsters, returning home from a visit with Mrs. Gillian's parents in New Bedford, Mass.

Four 20-year-old Concord, N.H., girls were aboard, off together on a new adventure, intending to find jobs in a Los Angeles area hospital.

A detachment of National Guard soldiers was brought from a Nike missile site near Argonne National Laboratory to patrol the crash scene to prevent looting.

The death toll when the plane smashed to earth was the third largest in U.S. commercial airline history.

In aviation's worst disaster, 134 lives were lost in a collision over New York City of a TWA Super-Constellation and a United Airliner DC8 jet on Dec. 16, 1960.

Relyea Asks

foot-paths should be constructed or the Town Board should "convince" the Board of Education that "the transportation of the children is essential."

Discussion Held

A meeting was held on April 11, at which representatives of the Town Board met with a staff engineer of the State Traffic Commission, the District 8 State Department of Public Works Traffic Engineer and the State Police Traffic Supervisor of Troop C, to discuss traffic problems in the Town of Hurley.

At that time traffic conditions in various areas of the town were discussed. A study of conditions was made later and on August 14 Town Clerk Ray Crosswell received a reply from Chairman Hulse in which requested relief was denied. On August 16 Lloyd A. Meader, director of the State Traffic Commission, notified the Town Board of Hurley, that traffic could better be controlled through a "yield" sign at the intersection of Route 375 (Woodstock Road) and the Delaware-Ulster Turnpike, Route 28, and removal of the "stop" sign which has controlled traffic at that busy intersection since 1943.

Order Issued

That same day an order was made by the Traffic Commission directing William C. Bassette, superintendent, Division of Operation and Maintenance, Department of Public Works, to remove the present "stop" sign and replace it with a "yield" sign.

Copies of the order have been received by the Hurley Town Board and sent to the Superintendent of State Police and Sheriff Claude Bell, as well as the order served on the State Department of Motor Vehicles. In his letter to the State Traffic Commission, Supervisor Relyea takes exception to the Commission's statement that there are "no factors in evidence which would justify the establishment of reduced speed limits" at the locations indicated by the Town Board.

Asks Reconsideration

Supervisor Relyea states "It appears pointless to reiterate the arguments we have advanced to your representatives, but I feel it is my responsibility to go on record on behalf of the residents of the Town of Hurley and I sincerely hope that a tragedy does not occur at the various locations at which we sought restricted speed zones."

In the interest of the safety of the residents of the town, Supervisor Relyea asks that the matter be "reconsidered."

Speed zones were sought in the Hurley Ridge Development, on Route 375, on Pine Street, on Lucas Avenue extension, on Zandook Road and Foerster Street, on Schoolhouse Lane and on Route 209 in the hamlet of Riverside Park.

Hurley Ridge Development is located on the west side of Route 375 and north of Route 28. The Commission says the "windy alignment and short tangents make excessive speed inevitable." On Route 375 between Hurley Ridge and Route 28, the Commission says the "marginal development is well below the minimum considered desirable" for effective speed restriction. On Pine Street, traffic is light

The State's Answer

In denying the application the Commission notes that "we would be deluding ourselves if any appreciable reliance were to be placed on a posted speed limit to overcome a situation where the basic solution is to keep the children off the pavement."

"Once we mix vehicles and children on a public highway which was constructed for vehicular traffic and not a playground, a potential hazard is present which artificial restraints on vehicles will not in any significant degree remove. The residents of Pine Street should be advised to exercise all possible care to keep their children from making the highway a playground."

Likewise the Commission dismisses the safety of school children on Lucas Avenue Extension between the Kingston Line and Joy's Lane, and on Zandook Road and Foerster Street as "below minimum" for speed restrictions, and suggests sidewalks or footpaths or convincing the Board of Education that transportation should be provided.

Schoolhouse Lane is a "dead-end" street which it is expected the town will extend through to the new alignment of Route 209, now under construction. On this request for speed zone it was mutually agreed at the hearing to await completion of the new road before action is taken. New alignment of Route 209 in Riverside Park, is the reason given for delaying direction of a speed zone. A study of conditions will be made at that place on completion of the realignment of Route 209.

All applications for establishment of "reduced speed" zones made by the Town Board are denied.

Asks PSC Rehearing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. today sought a rehearing of a Public Service Commission order that would cut a proposed $11-million increase in electric rates to under $4 million.

The PSC, in a decision Aug. 8, ruled that Niagara Mohawk would be entitled to an increase of about two per cent of the approximately six per cent boost it sought. Consequently, on Aug. 23, Niagara Mohawk filed a new rate schedule that would call for a two per cent increase, or $3.7 million. This is now being studied by the PSC.

May Summon Officer

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—As state troopers fanned out to try and serve 131 subpoenas, the Campbell County grand jury planned to call Kentucky's top police officer to testify in its vice probe.

The grand jury investigation already has resulted in a threatened lawsuit against State Atty. Gen. John Breckinridge.

Frank Benton III, special prosecutor, said Col. David Espie, head of the Kentucky State Police, and Commissioner Harold Moberly of the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board were among those expected to testify.

Beware 'Boiler Room' Telephone Salesmen

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I have had some very interesting literature about a copper stock and just recently I had a long-distance phone call from a broker who offered me this same stock, promising that it would double in price very shortly. I work hard and wouldn't want to lose. Would you advise me to accept his offer?" R.F.

A) Definitely no. I feel very certain that you have been selected to join the large group of investors who have been victimized by unscrupulous telephone salesmen.

These operate in offices that are referred to as "boiler rooms" because of the continuous racket from men shouting over the phone all day, trying hard to separate decent people like yourself from your savings.

Here's how boiler rooms work. The prospective victim is usually softened up by literature which manages to stress the name of the stock that is being pushed. Next comes the phone call from a persuasive salesman who makes elaborate promises, knowing that it's hard to take legal action on a telephone conversation. Ask him to put his promises in writing, and I doubt if you'll hear from him again. Then make a hard and fast rule. Never buy any stock on the telephone unless you know and fully trust the person on the other end of the line.

And trust no one who promises you a big, fast profit.

Q) "I understand that Melville Shoe (NYSE) is one of the best growth stocks in the shoe industry. What is your opinion?" P.P.

A) I like Melville Shoe as a sound stock and a good income producer, but I can't go along with it as a growth stock. Earnings per share this year will probably be little better than they were ten years ago and dividends are lower than the 1951 level. I suggest Spencer Shoe (ASE) or Green Shoe (NYSE) if you want growth.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

The controversial anti-discrimination law covers the sale or rental of apartments with three or more units—four or more if the owner occupies one—and the initial sale of houses in developments of 10 or more.

The law, to be enforced by the State Commission Against Discrimination (SCAD), also prohibits discrimination by real-estate brokers and finance institutions handling mortgages, and in the sale or rental of commercial space.

New York City has had its own law barring discrimination in private housing.

To Ask Broader Coverage Gov. Rockefeller already has hinted he may ask for broader coverage of the law. He hailed it Thursday as a "further gain" in efforts to outlaw discrimination where it occurs.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), has maintained that the law will affect only 10 per cent of the housing outside New York City.

Under the statute, persons who refuse to comply with SCAD orders may be subject to court action and fines or jail sentences for contempt of SCAD directives.

The school-bus measure, also specifies that parochial-school children be transported to the nearest school of their denomination.

Many disputes over interpretation of the provision already have cropped up, the State Education Department said.

The school-bus law was passed by the 1960 Legislature; the others, in the 1961 session.

Watery Display

MANDAL, Norway (AP) — Fifteen minutes after the new Norwegian motorship Beta set out on her maiden voyage Thursday, Skipper Ivar Jahnson called for full speed to show a Danish colleague how easily the 460-ton vessel handled.

Full speed and a sharp turn were too much for the Beta, though. In 30 seconds she heeled far over, throwing the 15 Norwegians and 12 Danes aboard into the sea and stopping the ship's engines.

Two German torpedo boats and other small boats cruising in the sunny fjord rescue the Beta's personnel. The ship, still listing sharply, was towed back to the shipyard.

Summer Favors City Street Work

This summer, after a more hampering spring, has been favorable to the public works department in completing street work, Mayor Edwin F. Radel noted today.

Resurfacing of Greenkill Avenue between the Boulevard and Clinton Avenue was completed Thursday by city forces. The rest of the street is being repaired under contract by James Berardi & Son. It includes curb and drainage work.

A base course was being placed today over the concrete on the Boulevard and other street work is projected. Curb work has been started on Staples Street, and work is to continue on Main Street where a block has been completed. Curb is also being reset in preparation for resurfacing of Joy's Lane.

It is expected, if favorable weather continues, he said, that the program as presented to Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, in the spring, will be completed this year.

Two Are Arrested For Car Larceny

Two men, who, police said, were caught in a stolen car downtown were arrested early today on petit larceny charges.

The car, a 1950 Plymouth, was reported taken from near the home of Joseph Lurie, of 33 Hone Street, its owner.

The two, Jorge Figueroa, 27, who told police he has no home, and Isidro Torres Garcia, 21, of Middleboro, a report at 2:07 a. m. said, were spotted in the car by Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz and were brought to police headquarters by officers George Barringer and Frank Monte.

City court hearing today was put over to Tuesday morning. Bail, fixed at $500 each, was not posted.

Norway Extends Limits

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norway extended its fishery limits 12 miles out to sea today and doubled the number of ships engaged in fishery inspection along its 12,000 miles of rugged coastline. The air force was called in to help.

However, no trouble was expected between the Norwegian forces and foreign trawlers. The old fishing boundary was four miles out. The formula adopted by Norway provides for a 6-mile territorial limit and another 6 miles of restricted fishing waters.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 1—Most writers are talking about the population "explosion" ahead of us; but no one explains how the greatly increased population is to get enough fresh water for drinking and irrigation. Doctors tell me to drink one glass of water each morning while I am dressing, followed by two more during the forenoon. I drink very little water after 4 p. m. and never touch liquor or highballs.

Salt Water Treatment

As three-fifths or more of the world is covered by salt water, it may be useless to try to turn it into fresh water. We may do far better to learn to live off the vegetable products of the ocean, as we do its fish, etc. However, Congress has appropriated money to build two experimental plants for desalting ocean water, one on the East Coast and one on the West Coast. All chemists know this can be done; but it is very expensive. The Ionics Inc. company of Cambridge, Mass., has the best success there-with; but I hear they recommend only that the "brackishness" be taken out of an existing source of water supply. I have recently visited such a plant. It is both practical and economical.

The plan which interests me greatly is to bring fresh water from Canada. Northwest Canada has three large lakes that drain the rainfall northward into the Arctic Ocean—which is very wasteful. Although it would be very expensive, great canals could be built for turning these streams and reversing their flow southward. Then this fresh water would be used to irrigate the dry plains of Montana, the Dakotas, Wyoming, Arizona, and New Mexico. For further details, readers should write John Powers, Jr., of Homewood, Alabama. The Atomic Energy Commission may now be considering such a "peace" project for 50 years hence.

Mining Fresh Water

In view of the projected increase in population and greater per capita use, the cost of fresh water and "soft drinks" will increase! To help with this problem the first step might be for cities to build a separate plant to distribute only salt water. Thus each house and industry would have two water bills to pay. Unless there is a World War III, homes and factories with successful driven wells will be in demand, as will those bordering non-polluted rivers, streams, and lakes. My reference to World War III concerns the danger from "fallout" when using water from streams, lakes, and uncovered reservoirs.

Driven wells, moreover, are wholly dependent upon electricity for pumping. Hence, as a part of any "shelters" such as the Civil Defense agencies are recommending there should be included fully charged storage batteries along with the food and other needed supplies. Fresh water may be shipped by tank cars or great pipes, or the fresh water may be frozen and shipped as frozen food is now shipped. The purpose of this column now is to get readers thinking about what an economic revolution is ahead based upon a scarcity of fresh water.

When I was a boy most homes had brick cisterns in their cellars. These were kept filled by the rain which fell upon the roofs. People who could not afford cisterns went to the "town pump" twice a day to fill their pitchers and pails. Each community would have several of these "town pumps" for the convenience of the people. Sources of diphtheria, typhoid, and other diseases were traced to these public pumps—leading to the installation of city water systems and later to municipal sewerage. I have a granddaughter who lives at St. Thomas, one of the Virgin Islands. She has a cistern, but there is no rain to fill it. She drinks and uses water shipped by boat from Puerto Rico.

Therefore, I urge my readers to consider the fresh water problem when locating their home. Select a state and city which has a good supply of fresh water. If possible, have a house which borders an unpolluted running stream or river. Such a location today is worth a premium over inland locations. Look ahead and speculate on the information given in this column. You can make money therefrom when and if you ever need to sell. If you wish to speculate, buy some such land—well drained—along with life insurance and good stocks. Man can always build more houses and develop more subdivisions; but only God can make more natural fresh water.

Christie Suspense Play Is Final Offering Of Summer Season at Phoenixia Playhouse

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

Phoenixia Playhouse is closing its summer season this week with a very entertaining and suspenseful Agatha Christie mystery, Ten Little Indians. The talented cast took well deserved bows before an enthusiastic audience on opening night. The play will continue on stage through Sept. 3.

Most outstanding features of this production are skillful and convincing characterizations, well executed sound effects, lighting, costumes and a good set.

Peter Bogdanovich, artistic director, deserves a special hand for his effective opening. The actors delivered their lines at a fast pace and in so doing provided a sharp contrast for the play's later suspense-filled scenes. John Ross was responsible for the scenery and lighting and Polly Platt was in charge of the costuming.

In the cast were Maurice Schadd, Victoria Hochberg, Carlos Bustamante, Dora Landey, Louis Napoleon, Jerry Lockwood, David Rosenbaum, Anthony Zerbe, Leona Van Zandt, George Morfogen, and James S. Tolkan.

I am sorry to see Phoenixia Playhouse close this season. It would be wonderful to see them stay on to provide Ulster County residents with good winter theatre as well as summer. They have done an excellent job.

Hope to Return

Ivor David Balding, the executive producer, not only made certain the best productions were offered but maintained fine public relations throughout the season. Asked if the company would return next year Mr. Balding would only say "We hope so."

Artistically the talented group scored a triumph but the financial picture apparently did not fare as well. It is a sad commentary on the tastes of our civilized society.

This situation is not peculiar to the Phoenixia summer stock company for it is the same throughout the country. We sound the trumpets on the subject of American culture yet empty seats in summer theatres and concert halls pronounce a verdict of "lip service your honor." We tear boards of education to shreds in the vigorous battle for "more aesthetic subjects for our children," but put the banners to rest in order to pay homage to wise cracking masters of ceremony on the endless stream of TV lost programs, all of which are little more than the chance games found on the boardwalks of Coney Island, N. Y., or Kingsburg, N. J.

We all enjoy "take a chance" games and fun programs but, should it be a steady diet, by the same token we should not be asked to patronize any artistic program if it is sub-standard. Nor should we attend a play concert or art show for the sake of attending if we do not genuinely enjoy it. But I strongly feel a better road must be provided for aspiring thespians, musicians, artists and writers. There is an abundance of talent in this great country of ours, but unfortunately, our values of appreciation are a wee bit tarnished around the edges, and therefore this talent goes unharvested.

Bring Theater to People

If the public will not go to the theatre then why can't the theatre or music hall be taken to the public via the television channel, oh, but then I forgot, art does not SELL, does it. How would you go about fitting the greats of the theatre, music and art worlds into a bouncing promotional jingle or, on the other hand how would it be possible to replace the noontime soap operas with "tune into tomorrow and learn what Lady Macbeth does with her dagger."

Unless some meaningful crusader comes forward I am afraid our art and culture are doomed to use the back doors to our Way of Life.

If anyone disagrees with me why then is it so difficult to maintain summer theatres, community theatres, promote concert programs, fill art galleries, establish and maintain philharmonic groups. Does anyone have an answer?

I don't. About the only thing I can do is shout bravo for the valiant people who keep trying.

PUBLIC PRESENTATION OF ENGAGEMENT RING

Q: My parents are going to announce my engagement shortly at a party. My mother thinks that my fiancé should present the ring to me at the party in the presence of the guests. I think making a production of this is in very bad taste and that it should be given to me privately before the party. I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: You are entirely right. The ring should be given to you privately, and to make a presentation of it at the party would be in very bad taste.

A Question of Payment

Q: One of the girls with whom I work has asked my husband to sing at her wedding. My husband does not sing professionally, but he has a beautiful voice and does on occasion sing at weddings. The wedding will take place on a Saturday morning, necessitating my husband's losing half a day's pay in order to be present. Under the circumstances, would it be proper for him to send a bill for his services?

A: When the bride asked your husband to sing, he should have answered that he would be delighted to do so but could not afford to lose a half day's pay. She would then have known that she would have to pay for his singing and decide if she could afford to do so. As things are, she thinks his singing is gratis and he really must not send her a bill.

Where to Place the Napkin

Q: For years I have been setting my table with the napkin at the right of the plate, but I have just been told by a friend that the napkin should be at the left of the plate. Will you please tell me which is correct?

A: At a formally set dinner (or luncheon) table, napkin is on the place plate. If the first course is on the plates, napkin is usually placed at left of plate.

Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Freeman.

Address to Benedictine Graduates Is Given By Father Moore; Scholarship Grant Awarded

The Rev. George W. Moore, of the Assumption Parish Bronx, gave the address at the commencement exercises of the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing, Sunday, Aug. 27.

In his talk Father Moore stressed the qualities of individual initiative and personal reliability, as the keystones to their success as nurses—the foundation of their success in the spiritual life for their personal life now and for the remainder of their lives. He exhorted them to pray as if everything depended on God and work as if everything depended on themselves. To depend more on God, less on self.

"The very concept of nursing owes its origin to Christ," Father Moore said. "It is your privilege and your task to keep that concept alive. Nursing will defeat the very purpose it aims to achieve if it ever rejects the only Source which has ever had complete and practical compassion on the multitude.

"There is an extraordinary opportunity for each of you as nurses, as you work in many and varied hospitals, to recapture and restore the divine inspiration which is the very foundation of your profession.

"It is a rare, rare, privilege that is given to you—treasure it always—treat it carefully—use it wisely—dispense it always—with love."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Austin V. Carey, presented the diplomas to the graduates and awarded the Sister Aloysia Scholarship of $300 for further study given by the Nurses Alumnae and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital, to Catherine Cassidy who attained an average of 91.3 per cent. New Luncheon Idea Introduced Here by Uptown Restaurant

The folks at Cafe Marius in Kingston introduced a new idea in the way of luncheons last week that is, new for this area. Along with their regular luncheon hour they treated guests to a showing of the latest fall fashions by a leading department store in Kingston.

The chain's fashion coordinator Sally Pandak selected fashions and Brenna Waring was the commentator.

Although combining fashion shows and luncheon are an established program in many cities throughout the country, last week's program marked a "first" in this area. If the shows meet with any success they will be made a permanent part of the menu at the cafe.

Women in Washington, D.C., have enjoyed this type of luncheon-fashion show for many years. Luncheon guests can plan on two shows—one at noon and one at 1 p. m. The format will be varied. A jewelry show one time, millinery another, and of course, fashions.

Featured in last week's selection were sports clothes in the latest magenta and fall colors, man-made furs and fall coats and popular coordinates. Certainly an enjoyable way to have luncheon particularly if you want to entertain guests.

Agree Shocks From Quake, Not Weapon

Seismograph readings Thursday touched off speculation that the Soviet Union had already carried out its threat to resume nuclear weapon tests. But most scientists agreed that their instruments had actually registered an earthquake near Peru.

The shocks were registered about 9 p. m. Wednesday. Prof. Max Bieder of Basel University's astronomical institute in Switzerland, and Dr. Raffaele Bendandi of the geophysical observatory in Faenza, Italy, placed the shocks somewhere in China's Gobi Desert.

Bieder said the shocks were unusual in that the second was stronger than the first and the center was relatively near the surface. Bendandi said they could have been caused by a subterranean explosion. Exploding nuclear bombs underground decreases radioactive fallout.

The shocks were also registered at about the same time on seismographs at Columbia University, California Institute of Technology, the Japan Meteorological Agency, the Riverview College Observatory in Australia and Sweden's Uppsala University.

None of these plotted the shock

Grim Aftermath of Crash

Rescue Workers Go Through Wreckage; None to Be Rescued

By WILLIAM SHAFFER and EDMUND D'MOCH

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP)—Chester Wadley, clad in pajama top and khaki pants, walked numbly through a floodlighted field of death early this morning with an armful of newspapers.

Doing Best for Dead

He was doing his best for 77 persons who perished in one of the worst plane crashes in U.S. aviation history.

"My God, man, all I'm trying to do is cover the dead," Wadley said. "I ran through the wreckage trying to find someone alive. I didn't find anyone alive."

Wadley, a certified public accountant, continued on his heart-breaking mission. Stopping at each blackened, lifeless form, he tore off a sheet of newspaper and placed it gently on a corpse. A mist fell.

"You know it's a funny thing. I didn't hear any screams," Wadley said. "I ran through the wreckage trying to find someone alive. I didn't find anyone alive."

That was the atmosphere as police, rescue workers—with no one to rescue—and residents ringed the smoldering, fragmented bulk of the Trans World Airlines Constellation, burrowed in a cornfield in this western suburb of Chicago.

Bodies All Over

"Bodies are strewn all over the site. None of them will be removed until we can identify and tag them," said James Clark, Cook County deputy coroner.

Josephine Broz, who lives in one of five homes narrowly missed by the doomed plane, said: "I heard the plane fly low over the house. My husband and I woke up and jumped out of bed. It seemed as though the plane made a turn and came back again because we as having occurred in Asia, and most put it near Peru. A spokesman at Riverview said the earthquakes were about 125 miles below the surface of the earth and not likely to cause any damage.

Prof. Bieder said later it was possible his instruments gave a faulty reading.

Would Swap Success

Belafonte Just Wants God-Given
Dignity of ManBy JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I'd gladly give up whatever success I have to be part of the human scheme."

That's Harry Belafonte, the Negro folk singer, telling what the Negro in America wants.

"Individual human rights—the God-given dignity of man. That's all we're fighting for."

He says success is meaningless without those rights. If he were to give up success, the sacrifice would be considerable.

His recent Greek theater session here was a record breaker. The announcement of his name brought a one-day advance order of $250,000.

Belafonte says he wants to capitalize on his appeal by making a movie wherein he would travel the world and film natives singing folk music on the spot.

"It could be something on the order of 'Around the World in 80 Days.' At least I would want its primary message to be entertaining like that. But I think it would help to better understand other peoples."

Belafonte is on the governing board of President Kennedy's Peace Corps, the only showbusiness personality so named.

"I think the Peace Corps may be the answer. We tried bombs and guns—and failed. Let's try it with people."

Belafonte lauds the State Department's cultural tours, especially in Africa.

"Of course, it's easy for a Belafonte or a Louis Armstrong to get rapport with the African people. I'd like now to have the Africans meet a Fred Astaire or a Gene Kelly. I think it would help for them to meet some of our great white artists."

Rocky Is Paying
About Tenth to Restore Mansion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Multi-millionaire Gov. Rockefeller is digging into his own pocket to pay about one-tenth of the estimated $688,000 bill for restoring the Executive Mansion.

The legislature approved $450,000 in expenses after the governor ordered the century-old mansion, badly damaged by fire last March, restored. Some persons had favored building a mansion on a new site.

Additional work totaling $38,000 was requested by the governor and repairs, costing $80,000, were decided upon later, raising the bill the legislature had anticipated by $138,000.

Cortlandt V. R. Schuyler, head of the Office of General Services, said Thursday Rockefeller was contributing the $38,000 to restore handwrought plaster moldings, re-carve woodwork considered historically valuable, enlarge windows overlooking a garden, lower ceilings in some rooms to conceal a sprinkler system and install an additional guest suite.

Schuyler said the work was nearing completion.

The additional $80,000 are for repairs not attributable to the fire, Schuyler said. He said the work, including roofing and painting, normally would have been done over the next two years but was being done now as a matter of convenience.

The governor and his wife, who were rescued from a flat roof where they had fled during the fire, have been staying at a hotel when in Albany.

Fabrics' Richness Glows in Paris Showings

GAILE DUGAS, Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor

At left, richness of fabric is combined with simplicity of line in Nina Ricci's purple cocktail coat. It's in full-bodied satin of "Orlon" acrylic fiber and silk. Shoulders are high and narrow, sleeves are slender, with small armholes. The all-important welting of the Paris season is used to outline the collar, and to indicate a low, sloping waistline. The luxurious fabric, welting, and big, fancy buttons relieve the simplicity of the princess line. • At right, the evening ensemble, stronger than ever in Paris this season, is beautifully depicted by Jacques Heim in a striking new fabric effect—black nylon lace with a big floral pattern mounted on copper-colored mouseline of sparkling nylon and silk. The dress has a slightly belled silhouette; the matching theatre coat of the ensemble is loose and easy of fit.

Strontium on Ground Is Hazard

Skies Are Largely Clear
As Reds Plan Tests AgainBy FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Soviet Union stands poised to resume nuclear testing, the skies are largely clear of radioactive fallout.

But the largest proportion of the fallout's most feared component, radioactive strontium, rests on the earth, still posing a potential hazard to health.

Atomic authorities have the strontium under constant surveillance and report that, so far, there is no evidence that humans have absorbed dangerous quantities.

Here's the present radioactive fallout situation, based on estimates given a reporter by Atomic Energy Commission experts:

Of the 10,000 pounds of radioactive debris loosed in the atmosphere between 1945 and late 1958 more than 95 per cent has by now either been deposited on the earth or decayed while still aloft or on the ground.

Only a relatively small proportion of the material still on the ground is radioactive.

The 10,000 pounds included debris from the two atomic bombs the United States dropped on Japan in 1945 and material loosed in nuclear tests by the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

Experts figure that bombs having explosive power equivalent to about 170 million tons of TNT had been exploded by the end of 1958. At that time the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain announced they were suspending the tests while efforts were made to work out a test ban agreement.

France conducted nuclear tests in the Sahara Desert last year, but the AEC estimates that they contributed only about 0.1 or 0.2 per cent of the total fallout of long-lived fission products.

Radioactive strontium has been termed the worst potential hazard because if enough of it gets into the human body, it could cause bone cancer or leukemia.

Nikita's Savage Power Play May Bring Results

K's Ruthless Image May Frighten
Allies More Than His SuperbombBy JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Who's chicken?

To find out is the most obvious reason behind Premier Khrushchev's decision to resume nuclear tests and his talk of a superbomb. Three times in a few months he has tried to make the Allies chicken out in their determination to defend Berlin.

Lays Egg Twice
Twice he was the one who laid the egg. But this third try—the nuclear tests and the threat of the monster bomb—is the truly savage one. It could work.

First, to test their mood, he threatened, as he had before, to get the Allies out of Berlin. But since he had done nothing before but talk, the Allies had nothing to lose by standing pat...until he did more than talk. And they did.

Next, he shocked them by sealing off East Berlin. This gave him a fiercer look than before, more determined. This seemed to scatter the Allies' wits. It took them a while to let him know they were still solid. But they did nothing else.

Then this week came the announcement on the resumption of the tests and the boasts about the superbomb. Actually, this was not the first time he had talked of having a monster.

Test Held Unlikely
The first time, in 1957, he claimed to have a weapon so huge it would make the one he has in mind now look as destructive as an aspirin tablet. He said that one was too big to test at all. It's doubtful he'll test this one, either.

Rep. Chet Holifield, California Democrat and an extremely well-informed man on nuclear weapons since he's chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, said Khrushchev was talking nonsense.

But the much smaller bomb he's talking about developing now—a 100 megaton, equivalent to 100 million tons of TNT in destructiveness—is perhaps five times bigger than anything the United States possesses.

Holifield doubts Khrushchev will try to develop this one, either, or test it, because he says five bombs of 20-megaton power would do more damage.

But it's not so much the size of the bomb which might frighten American allies as the ruthless image of himself Khrushchev is now creating.

He showed complete contempt for world opinion in deciding to go ahead with nuclear tests which both the United States and Russia voluntarily stopped three years ago.

It's natural for them to assume—when they think of standing by the United States in refusing to let the Russians take over Berlin—that if Khrushchev is willing to go this far, he may go to lengths undreamed of now, including war.

This is the biggest power play Khrushchev has tried since he succeeded Stalin.

$57,397 Robbery
Occurs Following
Armored Car Visit

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Cash totalling $57,397 was stolen from an East Side branch bank Thursday by a pair of gunmen.

The men rushed into the Brown-croft branch of the Lincoln-Rochester Trust Co. after an armored car had made a cash delivery. One of them said:

"This is a stickup. Get back. We mean business."

One man leaped over the counter and gathered money from the cash drawers while the other aimed a pistol at the 22 bank employees and six customers.

Both were wearing dungarees and metallic-coated sun glasses and appeared to be 30-35 years of age, according to a bank official.

One of the gunmen was slender had a pale complexion and wore a dark shirt and trousers, the bank official said. The other man was stocky, also had a pale complexion and wore a blue-gray cap and white shirt, he said.

As a teller, Miss Loretta Pace, started for a burglar alarm button, one of the gunmen warned her to "Take your hand off that or I'll blow your head off."

Randall-Hughes City Playoff Headlines Labor Day Weekend

The traditional windup of the competitive and social calendars for area golf clubs this 1961 takes place over Labor Day weekend.

Major event, of course, is the 36-hole city match game play-off between Leon Randall of Wiltwyck and George Hughes of The Twaalfskill Club.

The first round is scheduled Monday at 9 a. m. at Twaalfskill, with the afternoon round at Wiltwyck at 1:30 p. m.

Randall regained his Wiltwyck title last weekend with a 3 and 1 victory over defending champion, Bill Kaufman, while Hughes turned back the challenge of Clarence (Dubby) Raichle, 9 up, at Twaalfskill.

Randall has won the city championship three times in the last four years, completing an unprecedented triple run in 1957-58-59. Hughes will be making his third straight trip to the finals. He lost to Randall, 9 and 8, in 1959, and by 2 and 1 to Bill Kaufman a year ago.

While Randall and Hughes are battling it out in the 14th renewal of the classic, there will be plenty of activity elsewhere. All three area clubs — The Twaalfskill, Wiltwyck and Woodstock — have varied championship and social events scheduled.

Women's Finals
The women's championship finals between Mrs. Richard Davenport and Mrs. Charles Kovacs is scheduled Saturday at Wiltwyck at 9:30 a. m. A mixed Scotch foursome will be played Sunday at 1 p. m. and the traditional flag tournament for men and women is slated for Labor Day.

Social activities at Wiltwyck include Sunday morning breakfast for early golfers and a Labor Day dinner, featuring Cornish game hen. Dinner is at 8 p. m. and will be followed by dancing.

Two Championships
Woodstock Country Club has a busy weekend scheduled with championship finals in all flights. Eric Knutsen and Herb Waters meet in a 36-hole duel Saturday starting at 9 a. m. An hour later Janet Fochi and Mrs. Sylvia Hutchins meet in a 27-hole playoff for the women's title.

Prior to the Gene Sarazen exhibition on Labor Day, there will be a "Beat Gene Sarazen" tournament running Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day morning. A steak roast is on tap Saturday night.

The annual club doubles will occupy The Twaalfskill Club golfers on Saturday and Sunday and the first half of the city playoff is slated Monday morning. A steak roast and dancing are scheduled Saturday night.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The Satchel Paige of golf comes to Woodstock Country Club on Labor Day for an 18-hole exhibition.

Gene Sarazen, the man who made knickers a golf legend, has been on the professional golf trail for 40 years — just about as long as Paige has been firing baseballs at batters.

Both of these gentlemen are 55 or older, but Sarazen's golf immortality is assured in the record books, whereas only legend will give shadowy honor to the tremendous exploits of the great Negro pitcher.

It was back in 1922, mind you, that Gene scored a double in the U. S. Open and PGA, the two major titles of the time. The Western Open was then the third ranking U. S. tournament, with the British Open in a class by itself.

Sarazen fired an even par 288 at Skokie C.C. in suburban Chicago for his first U. S. Open title. He was to repeat 10 years later (1932) with his second at Fresh Meadows Country Club in Long Island. This was the tournament in which he played the last 30 holes in 100 strokes, one of the finest stretch runs in golf history.

Three PGA Titles:

That same year he turned back Emmett French, 4 and 3, at Oakmont, Pa., for the first of three PGA titles. The next year (1923) he trimmed the immortal Walter Hagen, 1 up, in 38 holes of a furious match in which they almost came to blows on several occasions. Ten years later, Sarazen grabbed his third PGA, routing Willie Goggin, 5 and 4, in Wanawassa, Wisconsin. In 1930, he had lost to another arch rival, Tommy Armour, 1 up at Fresh Meadows.

Lawson Little, one of the finest amateurs in U. S. golf history, defeated Sarazen in a playoff for the Open in 1940 at Canterbury in Cleveland. The British Open victory came in 1932 at Sandwich in England. He took the Western Open in 1930.

Sarazen is a national golf hero in England, nearly 30 years after his historic British Open championship. He has maintained close ties with our English cousins and made frequent trips in quest of another title. While he has come close, he never quite made it but in the process he has endeared himself to the British golf public as no other American player.

A Staunch Anglophile:

Gentleman Gene has always placed a high priority on the British crown, asserting that no professional is truly a champion unless he has won the British Open. Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and Arnold Palmer have taken heed of Sarazen's advice and made the trip to the home of the Royal and Ancient and returned with the title.

Sarazen's battles with Hagen, Tommy Armour and Long Jim Barnes form some of the great legends of the game. He rose from the caddy ranks to become an all-time master. He routed the invincible Bobby Jones, 15 to 14, in a 36-hole exhibition dreamed up by some Florida real estate dealers.

The current series that is being filmed around the world by some of the world's finest golfers aimed projects Sarazen on the international level he loves so much.

Despite the world acclaim he has earned in golf, he remains a country squire at heart. He still takes keen interest in youth and the motivation of professional golf in the world. Some of his biting comments on golf are not always universally accepted or acclaimed. But he is always worth listening to and watching. Which is what a lot of people will be doing Labor Day at Woodstock.

Cornell Is Rated High In Ivy League Race

By KEN VAN SICKLE

Ithaca Journal Sports Editor

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—For a football team on a six-game losing streak, Cornell is pegged quite high this season. Many Ivy League experts have picked the Big Red for second place, behind defending champion Yale.

Cornell ended in a tie with Brown in the circuit's cellar a year ago. In the league, Cornell triumphed but once, over Harvard. It won only one other game, from Bucknell, in a nine-game schedule.

A New Coach

Things are expected to be different this year. There is a new coaching regime. After five years as an assistant at Army, Tom Harp, 33, has taken up the burden. He plans to install the lonely end offense that worked so well at West Point.

The Big Redmen at Harp's disposal include 16 letter-winners, an ample crop of sophomores and several former squadmen.

There isn't a letterman tackle in the ranks. Most people seem interested in Cornell because of the backfield potential. The line coaches have their work cut out.

Even in the backfield there are question marks.

Last year's season was ruined when Marcy Tino of Binghamton developed knee trouble before the first game. Quarterback Dave McKelvey of Montclair, N.J., suffered a broken leg four minutes after the Colgate opener.

George Telesh suffered a broken ankle in the fifth game, with Princeton.

How well-mended are the three key men remains to be seen. Tino, spotted at halfback, underwent knee surgery during the winter.

McKelvey and Telesh were well enough to participate in athletics in the spring.

Gary Wood of Cortland, who showed poise as a freshman, is expected to vie with the left-handed McKelvey at quarterback. Bob Ritz and Tony Pascal are other hopefuls.

Plenty of Quarterbacks

In fact, Harp has so many quarterbacks that he switched Scott Brown, chunky junior from Cincinnati, to fullback. Ken Kaveny, a senior from Bulger, Pa., is a fullback hope while Pat Pen-nucci, senior from Manoroneck, and Mike Strick, sophomore from Shamokin, Pa., are highly rated halfbacks.

The lonely end may be Bill Ponzar, 6-1 sophomore from Wynne-wood, Pa., or Ken Hoffman, 6-3 senior from Wyckoff, N.J. Ed Burnap, who handled the punting last year, also is an end.

Another kicking specialist is Pete Gogolak, a sophomore from Ogdensburg. Gogolak, a Hungarian refugee, kicks field goals like a soccer player, with his instep.

He booted 6 in 11 tries with last year's frosh, one for 48 yards.

To take up the tackle gap, Harp has decided to switch Bob Wasilewski, reserve center, and Ed Slisky, a beefy guard. Dave Thomas of Canton, Pa., heads a competent guard crew. Tony Turle, 200-pound center from Kingston, Pa., returns at center.

Cornell will have the usual seven Ivy League games and its opener with Colgate. The other non-leaguer will bring Navy to Ithaca Oct. 14.

The schedule

Sept. 30, Colgate home; Oct. 7 Harvard at Cambridge; Oct. 14 Navy home; Oct. 21 Yale home; Oct. 28 Princeton at Princeton; Nov. 4 Columbia home; Nov. 11 Brown home; Nov. 18 Dartmouth at Hanover, N.J.; Nov. 23 Penn at Philadelphia.

San Francisco, Rams Slated For Exhibition Tilt Tonight

By ROBERT MOORE

The San Francisco 49ers visit the Los Angeles Rams tonight in an exhibition game which could serve only one purpose—determine which of the two clubs might be the stronger in the coming National Football League race.

Neither club is expected to cut a very fancy figure when NFL teams start playing for keeps Sept. 17.

There's one other NFL game on tonight's exhibition program. The Baltimore Colts, hoping to return to the form that won them world crowns in 1958 and 1959, collide with the Dallas Cowboys at Norman, Okla.

The 49ers-Rams fracas could explode into a free-for-all battle of offensive swiftness since both have pretty fair runners but questionable defenses.

Coach Red Hickey of the 49ers has a barrage of sprinters including Ray Norton, J. D. Smith, Gill (Cannonball) Cooper and J. W. Lockett.

The Rams, coached by Bob Waterfield, expect to generate an abundance of speed from Jon Arnett, Tom Wilson, Pervis Atkins and Dick Bass.

Baltimore Coach Weeb Ewbank will take another look at his back-field candidates tonight against the Cowboys. He's seeking a successor to the retired Alan Ameche.

Joe Perry, 12-year veteran obtained from San Francisco, seems to have the inside track.

Los Angeles — Alex Miteff, 212, Argentina, knocked out Jim McCarter, 215½, Seattle, 3.

Tokyo—Jose Medel, 117½, Mexico, knocked out Mitsunori Seki, 119, Japan, 5.

Yankees, Tigers Commence Vital 3-Game Series Tonight

Ford, Mossi Are Starters In Stadium Tilt

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The second place Detroit Tigers open a three-game showdown against first place New York tonight at Yankee Stadium after closing within 1½ games of the American League leaders with an 8-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Minnesota beat the Yankees 5-4 despite Mickey Mantle's 34th home run. The Mick's shot put him within three of teammate Roger Maris and left him one ahead of Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927. It was one of three homers by the Yankees, who bettered their AL record with 195 for the season.

Cleveland sent Washington to a 13th straight defeat, 2-1, and Kansas City took two from Los Angeles, 17-3 and 6-5. Boston and Baltimore were idle.

The Twins finished their season series with New York with their fourth victory in the 18 games and they did it with a five-run third inning. Rookie Roland Sheldon (9-4) was the loser, but it was reliever Jim Coates who gave up the deciding hit, a two-run homer by Jim Lemon. Southpaw Jack Kralick (12-9), won it. Bill Skowron and Hector Lopez socked other Yankee homers, bettering by two the AL record of 193 set by New York last season.

Billy Bruton and Norm Cash, the AL's batting leader (.365) who had missed a game because of illness, cracked two-run homers as the Tigers ended Chicago's winning streak at six. It was the 11th victory in 14 games for the Tigers, who scored the winning run off Frank Baumann (9-11) in the second on a single by Mike Roarke, a sacrifice by winning right-hander Paul Foytack (10-8) and a double by Jake Wood.

Willie Kirkland's double won it in the third inning for the Indians, who counted their first two runs in the second on Woodie Held's homer off loser Bennie Daniels (8-9). Jim (Mudcat) Grant (13-8) was the winner.

The A's took the opener behind Jerry Walker (6-11) with 19 hits, four of them homers and one a grand slam by Wayne Causey off loser Ken McBride (11-11) and two relievers. They won the second in the ninth with pinchrunner Joe Nuxhall sending the tying run home with a double and Causey the deciding tally with a single.

Bloomington Nips Lincoln Park Club, 5-3

Frank Sammons delivered a single in the sixth inning with the bases loaded to spark Bloomington Inn to a 5-3 Rec Softball league playoff victory over Lincoln Park last night at Dietz Stadium. This was the first game of the best-of-three series.

George Smith was the winner on a seven-hitter. He walked nine and struck out two. Al Milak went the distance to suffer the defeat. He was touched for eight hits while walking three and fanning five.

Jeff Brannen doubled for Bloomington while Sammons and Smith and Don Hoban had two safeties each. Tom Hickey had three singles for the losers.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the University of Buffalo football team hardly had time to yawn today.

The team opened pre-season drills at 6 a.m. The early start, which will be continued throughout practice, is for the benefit of players attending morning summer school classes, according to Coach Dick Offenhamer.

College Grid Elevens Start Practice Drills

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The nation's college football teams, almost oblivious to how the Labor Day weekend will be spent elsewhere, buckle down to two-a-day drills today in preparation for the season which begins in earnest three weeks from now.

A number of new coaches are set to roll out their own teams for the first time, from Iowa's Jerry Burns, given the best chance to lead the 1961 national champions, to Virginia's Bill Ellis, who inherits college football's longest losing string of 28 games.

Along with Iowa are Kansas, Louisiana State, UCLA, Penn State, all picked as the teams to beat for the national title.

Burns welcomed 19 lettermen, including eight starters from last year's Big Ten co-champions as he took over for the retired Forest Evashevski.

Minnesota, the defending national champion, who shared the 1960 Big Ten title with the Hawkeyes, lost five lettermen, including All-America guard Tom Brown, and is not expected to be the threat this year.

A Broken Leg
Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell is faced with the loss of halfback Bert Coan, who broke a leg in spring practice, but is more than consoled with all-around quarterback John Hadl, halfback Curtis McClinton, and a large, mobile line that makes the Jayhawks the team to beat in the Big Eight.

Louisiana State, whose iron-clad defense led the nation in being least scored upon, is loaded with juniors and will give defending Southwestern Conference champion Mississippi a battle for the top spot.

Penn State with 15 lettermen back, tops the East's independent. Quarterback Roman Gabriel led North Carolina State's contingent of 17 lettermen picked to outdefend champion Duke in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Rice has 22 lettermen back and is picked to take the Southwest Conference crown from defender Arkansas, which has been hurt defensively.

UCLA, with tailback Bob Smith ready to step in for the graduated Bill Klimer, also is show off 24 veterans as it battles for the Big Five title.

Ohio State, still strong in the Big Ten with fullback Bob Ferguson and guard Mike Ingram heading 26 lettermen, begins practice sessions Monday.

Harold Dancer Leads Drivers In Wins at Monticello Track

MONTICELLO—The best bet at Monticello Raceway these nights is that Harold Dancer Jr. will wind up as the 1961 meet's top dash-winning driver.

With more than three full weeks of the current session left, Dancer already has far outstripped the efforts of last year's driving champ, Carmine Abbatiello.

Dancer, according to the latest figures, was leading Monticello drivers in three key departments: most wins (40), win percentage (.270) and in-the-money percentage (.410).

Abbatiello in 1960 won the driving title with a total of 39 wins in 194 starts. Dancer has handled 148 horses so far with 21 seconds and 27 thirds to back up his 40 wins.

Abbatiello's '60 figures included 34 seconds and 32 thirds and an overall in-the-money rating of .333.

Seventh Last Year
Last year, Dancer ranked no better than seventh among Monticello's leading dash winners with a 19-17-10 chart for 91 trips to the post but his 348 in-the-money performance was second only to Abbatiello's mark.

Ned Galentine trails Dancer in this year's driver race with a .322 in-the-money rating based on 19 wins, 18 seconds and 23 thirds. Frank Popfinger, runner-up to Abbatiello last year for the dash-winning title, is second again with 22 wins but has been out 195 times.

Braves Now Third in NL Chase

By ED WILKS
Associate Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves scored the winning run on a double steal and climbed back into third place with a 2-1 victory over Los Angeles Thursday night that dropped the second place Dodgers three games behind idle Cincinnati in the National League pennant race.

Milwaukee edged past San Francisco into third place when the Giants lost to the Chicago Cubs 6-1 for their sixth defeat in seven games. St. Louis beat Philadelphia 2-1.

The Braves nailed the Dodgers with a second inning home run by Frank Thomas and the third inning double steal by Lee Maye and Hank Aaron. It was home run No. 37 for Thomas and one of six Milwaukee hits off loser Don Drysdale (10-9). Rookie Bob Hendley (5-3) won it.

The Cubs chased Juan Marichal (13-9) while collecting all of their 10 hits in the first three innings. Southpaw Jack Curtis (9-10) was the winner, blanking the Giants on six hits.

A two-out triple by Stan Musial broke a 1-1 tie for the Cards in the ninth. It scored Ken Boyer, who reached base with the only walk given up by loser Art Mahaffey (9-13). Bob Gibson (10-10) was the winning pitcher, blanking the Phils over the last eight innings on four hits.

Bills Are Seeking Exhibition Win

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The winless Buffalo Bills seeking an offensive combination that will do some scoring, have juggled their backfield for tonight's final pre-season American Football League exhibition game with the Boston Patriots.

Only flanker Elbert Dubenion among the starting Bills backs was in the opening lineup a week ago, when the Patriots dumped Buffalo, 28-10, in Providence, R.I.

Joining Dubenion in the backfield are William Fowler and fullback Wray Carlton.

Besides last week's loss, the Bills have been beaten by the Hamilton Tiger Cats of the Canadian League and the AFL Dallas Texans. Buffalo has only scored five touchdowns from scrimmage in all three exhibition games, and just two in their last two contests.

First string quarterback Johnny Green suffered a shoulder separation 10 days ago. Green will be out of action at least two more weeks, and the Bills AFL opener is in nine days, against the Denver Broncos Sept. 10 in Buffalo.

The Patriots, with a 2-1 exhibition record thus far also play their final pre-season game tonight.

Laver Is Favored To Win Net Crown

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The National Tennis Championships get under way at the West Side Tennis Club today with Australia's Rod Laver the favorite to win the men's and gobs of gloom in the U.S. camp.

Laver, who won the Wimbledon title with a straight-set decision over Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, won't get into action until Sunday because he drew a first-round bye.

McKinley is the only United States player rated even a chance of breaking the Australian domination of the title which has lasted through the last five years—Ken Rosewall, Mal Anderson, Ashley Cooper and the past two years Neale Fraser.

Fraser won't be on hand to defend. He's recovering from an operation.

McKinley saw action right off, facing George Stoesser of Tucson, Ariz. It will be the first men's match of the 28 scheduled for the opening day. The tournament will wind up a week from Sunday.

In the women's division, Darlene Hard, 25, Montebello, Calif., started defense of her crown against Christine Safford of Lansdowne, Pa.

Woodstock Slates Weekend Contests
Woodstock's first place entry in the Catskill Mountain League will play a pair of games over the weekend. The team will clash with Oak Hill on Sunday, 2 p. m., at Dietz Stadium and on Labor Day will meet Catskill, 2 p. m., at Cantine Field.

A rained out game with Catskill, originally slated for Aug. 27, will be rescheduled at a later date.

'Athlete of Week'

Marty Kaye Wins Net Honors In Tournament at Fort Dix

MARTY KAYE

Marty Kaye, former Kingston High School basketball star and later a varsity basketball and tennis performer at Gettysburg College, was chosen Athlete of the Week for his feat in winning the 1961 Fort Dix tennis championship last week. Kaye, stationed with Company G, Specialist Training Regiment, is in the Army on a six month hitch.

The 6-1, 180-pound Kingstonian followed up his singles win to team with Ivor Brinka and capture the doubles title. Kaye wasn't extended in any of his matches, winning all of them in two sets.

Kaye was number one man on the Kingston High School team for three years and he compiled a 28-2 mark during that time. He was also number one for Gettysburg College for three years.

Not a hard hitter, he follows the game's most basic principle: "Keep the ball in play." During the Fort Dix tournament, Kaye used his forehand to a great advantage.

Glenrie Club Bridge Results

Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock and Harry Thayer of Kingston posted a 61 per cent game for North-South honors and Mrs. Ruth Joseph of Newburgh and Mrs. Margaret Kantzer of Poughkeepsie turned in a 66 per cent game for East-West honors as the Glenrie Bridge club held its monthly master point game recently at the Stuyvesant Kingston Hotel. Twenty-four boards in a 15 table Mitchell movement were played.

On the North-South side, second place went to Miss Anne Holden and Mrs. Gertrude Davis of Allaben with a 58 per cent game; third was won by Dr. John Olivet and Dr. Habei Maroon of Kingston with a 56 per cent game and fourth went to Steve Pauker and Lewis Levy of Kingston with a 55½ per cent game.

Big Three in Tourney

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders — the big three of golf's golden trail — led the most talented field the $30,000 Dallas Open ever has had into the first round today. There were 141 in the field for the sixth annual tournament and those included 18 of the top 20 money-winners. Player has won $60,401.17, Palmer $35,499.59 and Sanders $48,679.90 as 1, 2, 3 in the money parade. The scene is the par 70, 6,800-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course.

THE DIFFERENCE — Jerry Barber shows the dissimilarity between the United States, left, and slightly smaller English golf balls. The PGA champion is captain of the American team going to England for the Ryder Cup Matches booked Oct. 13-14.

DISCUSS FIELD OPERATIONS—Members of the 854th Engineer Battalion (HV Construction) discuss field operations prior to breaking camp for departure Saturday for home after two weeks of summer training at Camp Drum, near Watertown. Approximately 100 men of the Kingston area will be among the 380 returning to their homes Saturday afternoon and evening. The discussion group includes (l-r) Pfc. John White, Sp 4 Robert Hinkley, both of Kingston; Pvt. Richard Gueren, Saugerties; Capt. Peter Sowa, Walkkill; Major Elliot Fritz, Poughkeepsie, and M-Sgt. Donald Snyder, Kingston, of the operations section of the 854th. The U. S. Army Reserve Center headquarters is on Flatbush Avenue, Kingston.

Buckman's Wins Foursome Title

Buckman's Brass Rail won the Saugei Mixed Foursome title with a 26-13 mark after a three game sweep of the Stuyvesant Barber Shop. Ned Sinrany was high hitter for the evening with 187-201-168-556. Richard Dempsey stroked 223 and Bill Mueller 203. Results: Eleven Main 2, Stephano's 1; Charlie's Texaco 2, Ricci's Rest 1; Buckman's Brass Rail 3, Stuyvesant Barber Shop 0; Park Diner 2, Wilber Fuel 1.

Grays Are Seeking Tie for Second

The Williamsport Grays, dethroned as Eastern League champions by the Springfield Giants, can clinch at least a tie for second-place tonight by defeating Johnstown. Or should third-place Binghamton lose at Springfield, this also would assure the Grays of a tie. And if Williamsport wins and Binghamton loses, the Grays clinch the runnerup spot. The Grays maintained their 3 1/2 game lead over the Trios Thursday night by beating Johnstown 16-10 while Binghamton defeated Springfield 11-2. Reading moved into fifth-place tie with Lancaster by drubbing the Red Roses 13-7.

Red Wings Seek Playoff Berth

Rochester continues its drive toward the fourth and final playoff berth in the International League tonight with league-leading Columbus' magic number cut to four. The Red Wings, who play last place Syracuse tonight, moved to within a half game of fourth-place Toronto Thursday night by beating the Leafs 8-2. Toronto, only four percentage points ahead, meets second-place Buffalo.

Major League Stars

Pitching—Bob Henley, Braves, southpaw rookie allowed only six hits, walked just two and struck out five for 2-1 victory over Dodgers. Hitting — Wayne Causey, Athletics, hit grand-slam homer in opener and drove in winning run with two-out ninth-inning single in second game as Kansas City swept doubleheader from Angels, 17-3 and 6-5.

Good Reason

LOS ANGELES — (NEA) — Willie Hector, rookie offensive tackle with the Los Angeles Rams, could be the fastest interior lineman in the history of the National Football League. He's a .098 sprinter, but he doesn't think he can run fast enough to get away from relatives. "I always wanted to play for the Rams even though I'm from San Francisco," he says. "If I played for the '49ers, my relatives would add up to an awfully long ticket request."

ning. The discussion group includes (l-r) Pfc. John White, Sp 4 Robert Hinkley, both of Kingston; Pvt. Richard Gueren, Saugerties; Capt. Peter Sowa, Walkkill; Major Elliot Fritz, Poughkeepsie, and M-Sgt. Donald Snyder, Kingston, of the operations section of the 854th. The U. S. Army Reserve Center headquarters is on Flatbush Avenue, Kingston.

MAP PLANS FOR RETURN—Officers of the 854th Engineer Battalion (Heavy Construction) map plans for the return from Camp Drum, near Watertown on Saturday. The battalion will complete two weeks of summer training at the camp tomorrow, and are expected to return to U. S. Army Reserve Center, Flatbush Avenue, some time in the afternoon or evening. Planning the troop movement are (l-r) Capt. Bronislaw S. Hudela of Kingston; Capt. Jack E. Robinson, Newburgh, and Lt. Col. Aris R. Plaatsman, Woodstock, 854th staff members.

CHAMPIONS OF AN OLD ART—Bill Koomsa Jr. a Kiowa Indian from Carnegie, Okla., won the men's senior fancy war dance title at the 1961 American Indian Exposition in Anadarko, Okla.; second, Elmer Brown; center, an Ojibwa from Pawnee; third, Warren Weller, a Caddo from Anadarko.

SWAP SHOP TALK — Whitey Ford, star southpaw of the New York Yankees, and Satchel Paige chat on dugout steps in Yankee Stadium. Paige, the legendary Negro hurler, has agreed to rejoin organized baseball by playing in the Pacific Coast League.

Rockefeller Calls Meeting to Talk About Shelters

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) —Gov. Rockefeller today called a meeting of the Civil Defense Committee of the Governors' Conference to discuss fallout shelters and other defense problems "in view of international developments." The meeting will be Sept. 17 in Washington. Rockefeller apparently referred to the decision of Soviet Russia to resume testing of nuclear weapons. Rockefeller is chairman of the committee. He said the meeting would be designed to enable the members of the governors' conference to develop a civil defense program for submission to their respective state legislatures.

Rocky Names Clerk

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Thomas Masten Jr. of Seneca Falls, a former chairman of the Seneca County Board of Supervisors, was appointed clerk of the county today by Gov. Rockefeller. Masten, 44, succeeds John G. Crisfield of Waterloo, who resigned last month.

4 Persons Hurt As Plane Rams Car in Driveway

SOUTH GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—A single-engine airplane, setting down in a field for a forced landing, roared across a road, up a private driveway and struck a station wagon.

The two occupants of the plane and two persons in the car were injured in the crash a mile south of here Thursday.

J. Sanford Potter, 58, of West Nyack, the pilot, was quoted by the State Police as saying he had hoped to reach Glens Falls Airport, five miles to the north, but decided to land in the field because the plane was low on fuel.

Reported in fair condition today were Potter, his wife, Claire, 58; Rutherford Pingree, 69, of South Glens Falls, and his son-in-law, Charles Looker Jr., 41, of Champlain, Ill.

Woodstock GOP Rally Scheduled For September 16

Historic Mead's Mountain House has been chosen by Woodstock Republican Club for its rally and picnic Saturday, Sept. 16.

The guest speaker will be L. Judson Morhouse, chairman of New York Republican State Committee.

An individual steak dinner will be served in two sessions, the first from 12:30 to 1:30, preceding the speeches at 2 o'clock, and another session after the speeches.

After considering other sites, the committee on arrangements, headed by Joe Forno, selected Mead's because of its scenic location, historical associations, and the adequate parking space available to take care of the large crowds that are expected.

The rally will be preceded by a parade, starting in Woodstock, a feature of which will be a display of classic cars that will make the three mile trip to the rally site.

There will be music and a temporary day nursery will be set up to take care of the small tots.

A large number of county and town officials have expressed their intentions of being present and the voters will have a chance to meet the candidates up for election in the fall. The rally is open to all, regardless of party affiliations.

"Alessandro" is the Italian form of the name of "Alexander," which means "defender of men."

But Not Adenauer

Brandt Pledges All Parties to Be in Regime

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said today that because of the tense world situation his Socialist party will form a national government representing all parties if they win the Sept. 17 general elections in West Germany. But, he added, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will be excluded.

Brandt told a news conference all the political strength of the country had to be combined in the face of the "general political assaults of the Soviet Union" against the West.

He said he would exclude Adenauer, the Christian Democratic party's candidate against him for chancellor, because of "the present structure of his behavior." This apparently was a reference to Adenauer's recent campaigning, climaxed by a speech earlier in the week in which he claimed Soviet Premier Khrushchev started the Berlin crisis to help the Socialists win the coming election.

Such blasts as these by Adenauer, who has been chancellor for a dozen years, appeared to be worrying his own party.

With the election only 16 days away, Adenauer has been smashing into the Socialist opposition and their candidate Brandt. Some of his associates fear the attacks might backfire against the 85-year-old Adenauer, whose Christian Democrats started out a heavy favorite to win the election.

There are rumblings of serious differences within Adenauer's party and the Socialists are smacking their lips, saying Der Alte—the Old One—couldn't be a better vote-getter for Brandt.

Adenauer has always been tough on his opponent. Once he referred to him as "Brandt alias Frahm." That was interpreted as a snide reference to Brandt's illegitimate birth, or as an implication of some deviousness when Brandt changed his name during his World War II exile.

Six Teen-agers, First Offenders, Are Given Chance

Six area teen-agers summoned by Kingston state police on petty larceny charges in connection with the alleged theft of speakers from the 9W Drive-in Theater were given an opportunity to repent when they appeared before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert E. Stedje Thursday night.

Judge Stedje said he will judge the merits of the case on the fulfillment of certain requests he made of the youths who must return to court Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Each of the youths must bring with them character reference letters from two persons other than relatives and four of the sextet must write compositions on the subject, "Why Should the Judge Be Lenient in This Case."

All agreed to make restitution, according to Kingston state police. They were released in the custody of their parents.

On the basis of information brought to court Tuesday morning, Judge Stedje said he will decide whether or not the six can be treated as youthful offenders. It was reported that none of them have previous records. The names are being withheld pending the decision of the court.
